French Guarding Embassy

Communist Riot Feared

PARIS — (INS) — Three thousand French security guards joined Paris police today to guard the American embassy against a communist demonstration against the U. S. chiefs of staff scheduled late this afternoon.

The American officers met early this morning at the defense ministry with their French counterparts to discuss mutual défense problems under the North Atlantic pact. No communist demonstrators appeared early.

However, the communist newspaper L'Humanite, defying a police order, ran a six column headline urging Parisians to mass before the American embassy in the the Place de la Concorde at 5 p. m. to protest "the policy of war."

WANTS HIGH PLACE

The American officers reportedly were asked by the French military men to assure France a high place on whatever council is created to run Western European defense.

The U. S. officers, who have been touring European countries belonging to the alliance, are Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg; Army Chief of Staff Gen. Omar N. Bradley, and Admiral Louis Denfield, chief of naval operations.

They met with Gen. Georges Revers of the French army; Admiral Andre Lemonier, navy; Gen. Charles Lechres, air force, and Gen. Paul Cherriere, defense coordinator.

The meeting took place at the ministry of national defense, which communists had threatened to picket.

At Frankfurt, West German communist leader Max Reimann delivered a "strong protest" last night against North Atlantic pact defense talks by the American joint chiefs of staff in the U. S. occupation zone of Germany.

Indians Cop 2 From Nats

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) — The rampaging Cleveland Indians were breathing hot and heavy on the necks of the league-leading New York Yankees today after their double-header win last night while the Yanks were losing.

The Tribe crept to within two and one half game behind New York by defeating Washington in both ends of a twilight double-header, 6 to 3, in 12 innings and 14 to 1, before 24,299 fans.

Things may be tougher for the Indians tonight, however, when they open a series here with the fourth place Athletics while the Yankees take on the comparatively weak last place St. Louis Browns in a double-header at New York.

The Indians will have Mike Garcia pitching against Lou Brissie for the Athletics. Garcia has won eight and lost four this season while Brissie has won 10 and lost six.

Polio - - Facts Vs. Hysteria

Many physicans feel that Americans have been made the victim of mass hysteria with regard to polio — infantile paralysis. They say, for example, that the chances of being killed or crippled by an automobile accident are much greater than is the possibility of suffering residual ill effects from polio.

If these physicians are right, the only weapon against hysteria is factual information. Beginning today The News-Journal presents a series of four articles giving down-to-earth information on polio. The first article appears on page 5.

The initial three articles were written by Howard W. Blakeslee, Associated Press Science editor, and the fourth by N-J staff writer Marguerite Miller following an interview with Dr. Charles R. Freeble, chief of the division of communicable diseases of the State Health department.

GOP Picks Taft-Backer As New Head

Guy Gabrielson Named Chairman

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A Republican national committee, split squarely down the middle, found itself under the command today of a new chairman, Guy G. Gabrielson of New Jersey.

Gabrielson is a 58-year-old lawyer-industrialist. Elected by a five-vote margin over Axel J. Beck, South Dakota farmer-businessman, he promised complete neutrality as between candidates for President and Congress.

But Gabrielson's election yesterday by a 52 to 47 vote over Beck — State Chairman A. T. "Bert" Howard of Nebraska got a single vote — put the national party's machinery back in the familiar hands of long time supporters of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

The new chairman succeeded Rep. Hugh D. Scott jr., of Pennsylvania, picked at last year's Republican convention by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. Thus, a Taft supporter in Gabrielson took over from a Dewey backer who in turn had replaced a Taft advocate, former Chairman Carroll Reece of Tennessee.

Taft himself took no apparent part in the national committee contest, but many of his backers contributed to Gabrielson's bare margin victory. Fifty-two was the minimum vote by which any candidate could win out of the total 102 qualified votes at yesterday's session.

Besides Gabrielson himself and Reece, the Taft men in the new chairman's camp included former national chairman Harrison Spangler of Iowa, Walter Hallanan of West Virginia and Col. R. B. Creager of Texas.

Gabrielson's opponents called them the party old guard and insisted the fight was more against them than against the new chairman.

OB Wage Pact Seen

Possibility of agreement on wage and contract issues between the Ohio Brass company and United Electrical Worker employes of the Mansfield and Barberton plants was foreseen by union officials here today.

Negotiations will be resumed at 1 p. m. next Wednesday following a two-week recess mutually agreed upon by the company and the union.

Any settlement of the union's demands would affect approximately 700 workers in each of the two plants.

Demands of the union includes a $500 wage increase a year per employe; a shorter work week with the same pay; a three-week vacation for older employes; paid holidays and pensions; paid insurance providing hospitalization and surgery.

Johnson To Appear As First Witness

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of Defense Johnson will be the first witness at the Senate public inquiry into the activities of "five percenters." Senator Hoey (D-NC) announced this today. He heads a special expenditures subcommittee which is expected to start its open hearings Monday.

Burglars Get AFL Funds

$180 Stolen From Office

A daylight burglary of the AFL Teamsters union Local No. 40, 117½ North Main street, which netted $180 in cash, is under police investigation today.

Report of the burglary reached police yesterday afternoon after two labor union employes returned from lunch and discovered the office had been ransacked.

An attempt was made to enter the AFL Local 1216 office located across the hall during the same period, W. L. Slagle, business manager of the union told police.

Betty Pearl, an employe at the Teamsters' union, told police she and S. L. Dinkel, an International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers agent, closed the office at 11:55 a. m. for lunch. When they returned an hour later they discovered the front door had been sprung and the money taken from a safe in the front office and from a desk in the rear office. The entire $180 was in cash.

The IB of EW and Teamsters' unions have adjoining offices, but police and a Teamsters' union employe declined to say whether the money belonged to both unions, or just the Teamsters' union.

Police said the door apparently was pried open with a blunt instrument.

Marks on the doors at the AFL office indicated the same instrument was used there, but the doors held. An attempt was made to enter both a front and a rear door, police said.

Bergman To Quit Screen

Says She'll File Suit For Divorce

ROME —(AP)— Ingrid Bergman announced today she will divorce her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom. She also said she will quit movies. The beautiful Swedish star made the declaration in a deeply emotional statement issued to reporters by her personal representative, Joseph Steele.

Ingrid Bergman

Sources close to the actress reported she intends to marry Italian director Roberto Rossellini after her divorce.

Miss Bergman's statement said:

"It was my desire not to make any statement until the conclusion of the picture I am now making ("After The Storm.")

"But persistent malicious gossip, that has even reached the point where I am made to appear as a prisoner, has obliged me to break my silence and demonstrate my free will.

"I have instructed my lawyer to start divorce proceedings immediately. Also, with the conclusion of my present picture, it is my intention to retire into private life."

Steele told newsmen Miss Bergman intends to wind up her present film within the next month or so.

CHINA WHITE PAPER FIGURES—Shown above are the key figures and points mentioned in the United States' new statement of policy towards China—the writing off of nationalist China as a complete loss. Secret reports by U. S. officials, behind-the-scenes accounts of communist activity in China and a scathing denunciation of the Chinese regime are all embodied in the report, a two-inch thick stack of white paper.

'White Paper' Hints Further Aggression

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson wrote off China's Nationalist government as a total failure before the onslaught of communism. He charted a new course for America's anti-communist policy in the Far East.

In a bitingly critical "white paper," including the long-suppressed Wedemeyer report, Acheson today told President Truman in a letter that U. S. policy now must be shaped to "encourage all developments" in China which are aimed at throwing off the "foreign yoke" of Moscow-directed communism.

Acheson said the communist regime serves the interests "of Soviet Russia." He advised the President it may "lend itself to the aims of Soviet Russian imperialism" to start an aggression against China's neighbor nations.

If that aggression comes, Acheson indicated the United States would try to block it through the United Nations.

While not all China is presently under the red banner, Acheson said in another document of the white paper, the communists can take over the rest any time they want and nationalist armies will be powerless to resist. He thus advised Chairman Connally (D-Texas) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee March 15.

For the "ominous result of the Chinese civil war," Acheson placed full blame on Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek and other leaders of the crumbling National government. He said they "lost no battles" in the last crucial year for lack of American weapons.

Their failures, he said, were due to loss of popular support and loss by the armies of the will to fight. The communists battled with "fanatical zeal," Acheson added, but: "the Nationalist armies did not have to be defeated; they disintegrated."

To support the position that Chinese—not American—leaders were to blame for the disaster, the State department included among the unveiled state documents a sensational letter from China's current acting president, General Li Tsung-Jen.

Li, who succeeded Chiang Kai Shek as chief of state, wrote President Truman May 5, 1949, that China was brought to its present plight by the failure of its previous government (Chiang's) to make "judicious use" of American aid and to put through "political, economic and military reforms."

SLASHING CRITICISM

The two-inch thick white paper (official diplomatic record) spanning more than a century, contains probably the most slashing criticism ever issued by the United States against another friendly government, even a dying one. It pours out all the known and secret reasons and arguments why the Truman administration for more than a year now has fought all demands in Congress for any major new China aid program.

Even the two-year-old report of Lt. General Albert C. Wedemeyer, aid to President Truman in 1947, is disclosed to have tempered its proposal for China aid with a big "if." Wedemeyer advocated a five-year aid program but said Chiang should undertake drastic reforms and should place Manchuria under United Nation's trusteeship to keep the communists from taking over.

It was this recommendation regarding Manchuria, Acheson said, which caused the report to be suppressed so long. He said the suggestion for alienation of Chinese territory would have caused trouble with the Nationalist government if published at that time.

About what can be done, Acheson spoke only in general terms. He expressed the belief that "ultimately" the Chinese people "will reassert themselves" and China "will throw off the foreign yoke." The United States, he said "should encourage all developments in China which now and in the future work toward this end."

The review brings out that various means were tried to achieve those objectives in the past.

During the war with Japan, when President Roosevelt was concerned to keep all China in the fight, he tried to get Generalissimo Chiang to name the late General Joseph W. Stilwell as commander in chief of Chinese and American forces. The idea was to unify Chinese armed forces under a "neutral." Chiang agreed in principle but never did anything about it.

STILWELL'S BLAST

Chiang and Stilwell fell out and Stilwell was called home. In a report ot the war department, published in the white paper, he blasted both Chiang and U. S. Government diplomacy.

Chiang, he said, sought to "dominate rather than unify and lead" China in the face of the Japanese offensive. The United States, he said, failed by its "genial parental admonishments" to force Chiang into unity.

Ambassador Patrick J. Hurley next took up the task. His mission spanned the transition period at the war's end (1944-45). American policy still emphazied unity of the communists within a China led by Chiang.

Hurley went to Moscow and conferred with foreign minister Molotov who assured him the Russians had friendly feeling toward Nationalist China and fav-

Reds Capture Changsha, Generals Change Sides

CANTON — (AP) — The fortress of Changsha fell to the Reds today and a credible report of a Nationalist army revolt on that front may mean the road to Canton soon will be almost wide open.

Loss of Changsha, 365 miles to the north, was enough for the Nationalists. But the Reds in another lunge southwest of Changsha were only 215 miles from this refugee capital.

Both these reversals were admitted officially.

Unofficial but credible reports said Gen. Chen Ming-Jen, new governor of Hunan province, had revolted.

General Chen only recently replaced Gen Cheng Chien. The government charges Cheng fled from Changsha and went over to the Reds Monday. The government ordered Cheng's arrest, accusing him of trying to arrange a local peace with communists.

The unofficial accounts said General Chen, close friend of his predecessor, also went over to the Reds taking at least one of his three armies with him. His armies totaled 90,000 men.

Defection of the Hunan general would creat a serious situation. It conceivably could compel Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, the commander in the south, to withdraw his troops southwestward into Kwangsi province. This would leave the road to Canton open for a swift and easy communist advance.

The revolt of the two generals would explain why the Reds have been shadow boxing on the Changsha front lately. They were waiting for an easier way into Changsha, whose natural defenses stood up against repeated Japanese assault during the war.

General Cheng formerly was chief of China's general staff. He was a close friend and associate of Chiang Kai-Shek.

Mansfielders Take 'Boxcar'

Legionnaires Head For Ohio Convention

Mansfield Legionnaires and 40 et 8 members were ready to leave today with the 40 et 8 fire engine and boxcar for the American Legion's state convention in Columbus.

The camouflaged boxcar and fire truck will appear in the big 40 et 8 parade Saturday. The Legion and 40 et 8 conventions will open tomorrow and close Monday. The auxiliaries of both organizations also are holding their sessions in Columbus this weekend.

Mansfield's posts and auxiliaries will send 44 official delegates to the conventions, but a number of other members are expected to attend.

American Legion drum and bugle corps and bands will compete for $3,000 in prize money at the 31st convention.

The Massillon corps, seven times state champions and present titlists, will be out for its third consecutive victory. The Kent band will be seeking its fourth straight crown.

Bands from Canton, Shelby, Salem and Kent are entered in the competition beginning at 6:30 p. m. Saturday, at Central High School field.

Twelve music experts from outside Ohio will judge the contests. Results will be tabulated by 22 persons from the office of State Treasurer Don Ebright.

The band that wins the championship Saturday will march at the head of the Legion parade Sunday afternoon.

Mansfield delegates of the 40 et 8 club include Chef L. H. Bachrach, Chéminot Albert F. Conroy, Floyd O. Cupp, Perry H. Smart, Carl Kahl, Hollis Moorhead, Clarence Pollock and alternate Fay D. Fairman, Frank M. Duff, J. P. Benedict, James B. Rizer and Richard L. Hecht.

McVey Post No. 16 will send 16 official delegates and the auxiliary will send 14 delegates. The auxiliary delegates are Mrs. Dwight McCullough, Mrs. James Rizer, Mrs. John Fuller jr., Mrs. Don Leuthner, Mrs. Charles Feigenbaum, Mrs. Samuel Harkins, Miss Irene Rees, Mrs. C. E. Anderson, Mrs. Mervin Grau, Mrs. Virgil Hageman, Mrs. Mary Schettler, Miss Josephine Kiehle, Mrs. Walter Durant, Mrs. H. H. Dickson and Mrs. W. L. Beckley, department chaplain for the state of Ohio. Mrs. Beckley will be in charge of memorial services Sunday morning. Miss Marie Kalbfleisch will attend as president of the Fifth district.

Commander Charles A. Boughton will lead the 16 delegates from McVey post.

Senators Plan Fraud Probe

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Senators today planned a two-pronged investigation into charges of "fraud, collusion and bribery" in the procurement of government contracts during the war.

At least two Senate committees — the investigating subcommittee and the judiciary committee — planned to look into the report of Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren who told Congress yesterday he has uncovered "shocking evidence" of wartime fraud on the part of some army officers and government officials.

The two committees were especially interested in what Warren called an "apparent scheme" in which federal officials received 20 per cent "kickbacks" on the contracts they steered to favor business concerns.

Aug. 14 Air Show Set

Races Scheduled At Mansfield Airport

Mansfield Aviation club's first efficiency air race and air show will be held Aug. 14 at Mansfield airport. Program highlights of the event were announced today by David Robinson, chairman of the club's air activities committee.

Robinson said the show will open with a mass flight of private and military planes over the city at 9:30 a. m. Approximately 15 aircraft are expected to make the flight.

At 12:55 p. m. the first race is scheduled to get underway. All races will be held for light aircraft, piloted by private owners and races will be divided into classes for each type of plane. Trophies for the winners will be awarded at the close of the races.

The races, which will end about 3 p. m., will be followed by a demonstration of crop dusting by a plane, piloted by Grant Lust of Willard; and a demonstration of light plane "aerobatics" by Richard Clause of Chardon, O.

At 3:50 p. m. Mansfield's 164th Fighter squadron of the Air National Guard will combine with the 112th Light Bombardment squadron of the Guard from Cleveland for a demonstration of military tactics, low-lewel flying and formation flying. The Cleveland squadron will use B-26's in the demonstration, Robinson said.

Throughout the show, a display of aircraft will be available for public inspection on the ground. The aircraft will include: one T-6 trainer; a new F-51 Mustang fighter; one B-26 light bomber, a C-47 cargo ship and a Hudson "Lodestar".

Push Demands For Arms Cut

WASHINGTON — (AP) — House critics of President Truman's arms-to-Europe program, claiming one major victory already, drove today to further limit the scope of the proposed $1,450,000,000 project.

They want the amount cut at least in half, despite the President's fresh demand for the full amount. Mr. Truman said yesterday, however, he isn't insisting on "blank check" authority to send U. S. arms to any nation.

"If the President has yielded on one major area of controversy, he can back up on another," a top Republican on the House foreign affairs committee told newsmen. "He will have no choice. He will have to settle for a smaller amount and a more limited program."

Monkey Captured After Wild Chase

Roscoe's Antics Aggravate Ashland

Roscoe, Ashland's rampaging monkey, was back in his cage today after four days of freedom.

His escapades created considerable excitement in the vicinity of his owner's home as he scampered about trees and buildings, eluding would-be captors.

last week as a pet by Stanley

The little fellow, purchased Phillips, 234 Lincoln avenue, Ashland, was apprehended when he made a wild dash for sanctuary in a Cleveland road filing station.

Evidently, Roscoe's chattering had annoyed a dog in the neighborhood which decided to give chase to the little tree swinger. It was a considerable jolt to the station operators when the monkey tore into their quarters but they recovered in time to hold Roscoe in custody.

It was the end of a lively chase by neighbors and police who were constantly eluded by the agile Roscoe who fled his cage at the Phillips home last week end.

Back in captivity, Roscoe appears entirely contended after his sojourn into the "wilds", his owner reported.

Central Ohio Junior Teams Battle To Tie

Madison and Ashland lived up to their season-long script last night when they battled to a 3-3 tie in Central Ohio junior league game. Games between the two teams have been postponed twice and ended in ties three times.

Ashland scord three runs in the first inning but Madison came back with single tallies in the second, fourth, and fifth. Dick Ernsberger scored Madison's first run at Ashland all year with a long home run in the second frame.

Madison will meet Lucas Sunday afternoon at Blue Goose park with the league championship at stake. The two teams finished the regular season in a tie.

Finale Set For Girls' 9's Tonight

By CHARLEY STINE

With the jinx on Mansfield teams finally broken, two more local softball nines will move onto the tournament stage tonight at Gorman-Rupp field. Todd's Jewelry is to meet Mt. Vernon Cochran Motors at 7:15 while Veterans of Foreign Wars go against Ashland Police at 9:45.

The "middle" game of the night will be the Girls' district finals between Smitty's Maids of Marion and defending champion Cochran-Dalrymple of Mt. Vernon.

Sons of Herman became the first Mansfield team to win as it took an air-tight 1-0 decision last night from Perrysville Pottery. Ideal Electric squeezed out a 5-4 decision from Bucyrus Ohio Locomotive to be the second Mansfield team to stay in the running.

Only game which was not close was the 4-1 licking Isaly Dairy took from Sid's Cleaners of Mt. Gilead. And that game was a 1-1 tie until a bad break gave Sid's two runs in the fifth inning.

With Mt. Gilead runners on second and third and two men out, John McClelland hit an easy grounder to Isaly shortstop Tony Koroknay. As Koroknay went down for the ball, he was knocked head-over-heels by Rob Garrison, the Mt. Gilead runner coming from second. The ball skipped through to left field and two runs scored.

That resulted in the first rhubarb of the tournament as the Isaly players stormed the "umps." They argued that George Bosko, calling plays at third base, should have called Garrison out for interference.

ANOTHER ARGUMENT

After another "questionable" decision in the seventh inning, Isaly manager C. P. Robnolte was ejected from the game for protesting to Umpire - in - Chief Mike Bosko. The second argument came when Ralph Griffith beat out a hit and was called safe by first-base umpire Phil Ganni, only to have the decision reversed because Griffith allegedly ran out of the baseline.

Nomination for the meet's best-pitched game thus far went to Dick Kanz of Sons of Herman who stopped Perrysville with two hits and walked but three batters. His mates did not commit an error behind him.

Kanz was removed for a courtesy runner after hurting his arm on a play at first base in the third inning but came back strong. He led off the third frame by singling but was hurt sliding back to first after rounding the bag on the hit.

Sons of Herman got its run later that inning when Gene Hetler got on by a fielder's choice and scored on two errors.

Best hitting job so far was done by Ideal Electric which pounded out seven solid blows, including four doubles, in beating Bucyrus. Despite the heavy display of fireworks, the Electrics had to turn in some fine defensive work to snuff out a Bucyrus rally in the seventh inning.

SMART THROWING

An error, home run, base on balls, and a single brought the score to 5-2 with still nobody out and two men on. Another Texas league single dropped into short left field, but Ideal shortstop-manager Ivan Witchey nipped the rally with a bit of smart maneuvering. Witchey ignored the third and fourth runs going home and threw to second where the surprised batter, Tom Kronenberger, was tagged out.

With the bases cleared, Ideal pitcher Glenn Zartman retired the side with no trouble.

Tomorrow night's schedule is: Westinghouse vs. Mt. Vernon Mazza's Cafe, Gorman-Rupp vs. Bucyrus Swan Rubber and Ashland Garber Printing vs. Jeromesville.

Church League Tourney Opens With Two Games

First Christian and United Brethren became the first teams to drop out of the second half Church league softball race as tournament play opened last night.

First Christian lost to St. Matthew's, 8-2, while Brethren was falling, 10-7, before First Presbyterian. Due to a shortage of time the second half champion is being decided by a single elimination tournament.

St. Matthew's, the darkhorse of the second half, had little trouble in its game, leading 8-0 until First Christian rallied for two runs in the top of the seventh. Phil Rogers led St. Matthew's with a double and triple.

The other game was a nip-and-tuck affair with First Presbyterian taking the lead for keeps with four runs in the last of the fifth inning.

U. S. Trackmen Defeat Sweden

STOCKHOLM — (AP) — Touring American athletes have racked up another track victory over Scandinavian opponents. Sweden is the latest victim.

Not only did the U. S. track and field stars, overwhelm the Swedes last night by capturing nine of 11 events, but one of the American aces also won a bicycle.

Bob Richards of Champaign-nill., after accounting for the pole vault by leaping 14 feet, 4 inches, received the bicycle as a prize.

DAV Nine Meets Farm Tools Club For Loop Lead

Vacations, forfeits and the district tournament have all combined to reduce today's city league softball schedule to two, smallest program since early in the spring.

Most important will be the clash of Disabled American Veterans and Farm Tools in the American league at Liberty park. First place will be at stake in the game with the Toolmen leading and DAV only half-game behind.

Farm Tools is undefeated in two second half starts while DAV has a 2-1 mark. In the first round game between the two teams, DAV won, 7-6.

The other game will pair Tom's Restaurant and American Legion Post 16 in an International loop game at North lake park. Todd's Jewelry was to have played VFW but the game was postponed because of the district tournament.

Pick Two Officials For Rangers Club

Administrative officials for the Mansfield Rangers pro football team were announced today by Danny Markowitz, president and general manager of the club.

Morton H. Stern will serve as secretary-treasurer of the Rangers while Roy D. Mitchel will be ticket manager.

Hunting, Trapping Rules Liberalized

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The Ohio Conservation and Natural Resources commission yesterday adopted tentative rules and regulations for the 1949 hunting and trapping season.

In most instances the regulations will be more liberal than they were last year. Eight days were added to the open season on rabbits. Dates include Nov. 15 to Dec. 26. Bag and possession limits, however, remain the same—four per day and four in possession.

The grouse season was set for Nov. 15-30, five days more than last year. Daily limit will be two and possession limit also two. Hours of hunting will be 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The first open season on skunk in two years was set by the commission for Nov. 15 to Jan. 15.

Groundhog hunters will have 15 more days of hunting, with open season throughout the year except from March 1 to June 1, 1950.

Other seasons adopted tentatively by the commission with no change from the 1948 regulations included:

Squirrel—Sept. 15-30 inclusive; daylight to dark, daily bag limit, four; possession limit, four.

Pheasant — Nov. 15-25 inclusive; 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., daily limit of two cock birds; possession limit, two.

Mink and muskrat—Nov. 15-Jan. 15, in the inland trapping district; Nov. 15-March 15, in the Lake Erie trapping district. Opossum—Nov. 15-Jan. 15.

Hungarian partridge will remain on the protected list and there will be no open season, the commission announced.

All rules and regulations are subject to final approval at the commission's next meeting, Sept. 9. By that time the commission said it expects to have a final report on nesting studies being made to determine what the game surplus above brood stock supplies might be by hunting season time.

The ticklish question of an open deer season in specified counties was left until the next meeting.

ASHLAND COACH — Richard Wolfe, New London graduate, is the new assistant coach at Ashland high school. The ex-Kent State athlete, coached at Ashtabula last season. He will coach the A's Junior Varsity grid team.

Billy Talbert Plays Flam In Tennis Meet

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. — (UP) — Top seeded Billy Talbert of New York meets Herbert Flam of Beverly Hills, Cal., today in the final quarter - final of the eastern grass courts tennis championships.

The Talbert - Flam match was rained out of yesterday's program, after Arthur Larsen of San Francisco and Tiny Felicissimo Ampon of the Phillipines sprang major upsets.

Larsen downed Earl Cochell of San Francisco, 6-4, 6-4, while Ampon defeated Eric Sturgess of South Africa, 4-6, 6-0, 7-5. Sturges made the final round of the national singles last year. Cochell's loss might cost him a berth on the U. S. Davis Cup team.

Gardner Mulloy came from behind in his quarter - final match to defeat Sidney Schwartz of Long Beach, N. Y., 5-7, 6-0, 6-3.

In the women's single, top - seeded Doris Hart advanced into the semi-final round with a 6-3, 6-3 victory over Nancy Morrison of Palm Beach, Fla.

In the women's semi-finals today, Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., met Beverly Baker and Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd of La Jolla, Cal., met Shirley Fry of Akron, O.

Keefe and Zoll Lose In Finals

LAKESIDE — Lefty Bob Keefe and Dr. Andy Zoll, of Mansfield, were defeated in the doubles finals of the Northern Ohio Tennis tournament here yesterday.

Robert Thompson, Youngstown, and Clint Stevenson, Norwalk, defeated the Mansfielders, 6-3, 6-0, 6-1. Keefe and Zoll are among the favorites to win the Mansfield city title.

In the singles finals, Thompson won over Stevenson, 6-0, 6-2, 6-1.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

BATTING—Pat Mullin, Tigers, broke up game with 11th inning single, his fourth hit, for 3-2 edge over Yankees.

Cleveland Cuts Into New York League Lead

Tribesmen Defeat Nats In Twin Bill

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) —The Cleveland Indians are grinning from ear to ear over the proximity of the New York Yankees, but they also are grimly aware of the series with the Philadelphia Athletics beginning today.

The 6-3, 14-1 wins over the Washington Nationals yesterday combined with another loss by the Yanks to the Detroit Tigers have boosted the Tribe to its best position since mid-May. The big aim now is to get by the A's and back to Cleveland without loss of hard-won ground.

It may not be easy. The Mackmen ain't what they used to be, but they still are tougher than the St. Louis Browns whom the Yanks face in New York.

Big Mike Garcia, a low-hit, low-run hurler in recent starts, will face the A's in an arc tilt tonight. His record is 8-4. Either Alex Kellner, top Philadelphia lefthander (14-6), or butterfly artist Dick Fowler (10-6) will be the choice of Manager Connie Mack.

Yesterday's vital first game was a 12-inning affair which the Tribe copped in the third extra inning with four tremendous extra base hits.

Perhaps the decisive blow was a triple to right centerfield delivered by Mickey (Mr. Clutch) Vernon right after Larry Doby opened the frame with a double to left.

Rookie Dick Weik, who had staved off the Tribe on nine hits for the 11 preceding innings, then was removed for veteran Joe Haynes. One of the blows off Weik was Joe Gordon's 15th homer in the second.

LOU BLASTS TRIPLE

Manager Lou Boudreau did not seem to notice the change of hurlers. He hit a fat pitch to the far reaches of center field for another triple. Bob Kennedy followed with the frame's second double to score the skipper.

Credited with the victory, his 13th, was Bob Lemon. The swift righthander was the last of the Tribe's hurling corps which included Frank Papish, Satchell Paige, Sam Zoldak, and Al Benton. All of the men did well, but were yanked for pinch hitters.

Papish allowed three hits until the sixth when Sherry Robertson homered with one on to give the Nats a 2-1 lead. After the Tribe took a 3-2 lead on two markers in the eighth, the Nats sent the game into overtime with a run in their half.

It was the 12th overtime victory for the Tribe this season. They have lost only one extra-inning contest. The record reflects the excellent relief hurling and determination of the ball club.

Bob Feller threw his glove on the mound for the second game and the Nats keeled over.

Behind Rapid Robert's six-hit hurling, the Indians clubbed out 20 hits, highest output of the year. It also was the most runs scored by the Tribe in a game this season.

It was Feller's ninth win. He lost a shutout when the Nats combined two singles with an error and a double play for one run.

Three runs on five hits in the first and five runs on seven safeties in the ninth were the big splashes against the shattered Washington pitching staff. Dale Mitchell led all hitters with five safeties in six trips. Charged with his ninth straight loss was Paul Calvert.

Girl Cooks Up Romance For Joe, Showgirl

NEW YORK — (UP) — A girl accused of sending forged mash notes to baseball star Joe DiMaggio was questioned by the Bronx district attorney's office yesterday and then released in her father's care.

The New York Yankees said DiMaggio had received notes, written by the girl but signed with the name of showgirl Junior Standish. The girl also sent press releases to newspaper columnists, describing an imaginary romance between DiMaggio and Miss Standish.

Both DiMaggio and the willowy blonde showgirl admit they have dates, but deny any romance.

Junior Standish, whose curves are strictly major league, describes DiMaggio as a guy who loves torch songs, Western movies and base-hits—not necessarily in the order named.

"Joe," explained the hazel-eyed Miss Standish, as she demurely cut into a two-inch steak, "is simply wild about torch songs. He listens to them by the hour.

"We go to see western movies practically every night. Joe thinks they're the greatest motion pictures ever produced but I think they're sort of silly."

GOOD LUCK CHARM

DiMaggio met Miss Standish last May "through a mutual friend" and once called her "my good luck charm" during his period of recuperation from an ailing heel.

"While Joe was out of the line-up," Miss Standish recalled, "he rarely spoke about baseball.

"Even though he didn't talk about the game," she continued, "I could sense he was thinking about it. He was always reminding everybody that the Yankees were in first place without him. You know how he is. He 'underplays' his own accomplishments."

Miss Standish, a featured dancer at the Latin Quarter, admitted that she is a constant patron of games at Yankee stadium.

"Naturally," she smiled, "I always root for Joe. There's only one like him. This Ted Williams may be a better hitter in the clutch but for all-round dependability, it's Joe."

Although she couldn't differentiate a home run from a stage cue six months ago, she's a confirmed baseball fan now.

Despite her Yankee attachment the candid Miss Standish is convinced that the Cleveland Indians will win the merican league pennant.

"The Indians," she reasoned, "have wonderful reserves. When Lou Boudreau moved over from shortstop to third base, Ray Boone filled in excellently.

"Cleveland will win, I'm afraid.

"I've mentioned the fact to Joe a couple of times but since then I've learned to keep my mouth shut.

"Joe is positive the Yankees will win."

Extra-Inning Flair Helpful To Tribe; Yanks Lose To Tigers In Eleventh, 3-2

By JACK HAND, AP Sports Writer

Cleveland's flair for winning extra inning games may mean the difference in the American league pennant race.

While the leading New York Yankees have blown eight of 11 overtime decisions, the 1948 world champions have copped 12 of 13. As a result the Indians today are only 2½ games out of first place. Not since mid-May have the Yanks faced such a direct threat as both Cleveland and Boston now present. The Red Sox, winning nine of 11 since returning to Fenway park, now are only five games behind New York.

That old extra inning trouble felled the Yanks again yesterday when they lost to Detroit in 11 innings, 3-2. Pat Mullin, who murders New York pitching, broke up the game with his fourth single of the day, scoring Eddie Lake.

Vic Raschi, who has lost only six while winning 15, suffered his third setback by Detroit, a club he hasn't beaten.

Cleveland pulled another long game out of the fire, trimming Washington, 6-3, in 12 innings to take the first of their twilight-night doubleheader.

Gambling all the way, Manager Lou Boudreau used Bob Lemon, his pitching ace, in relief and Lemon picked up his 13th win on a three-run splurge in the 12th. Then the Indians proceeded to humble the Senators, 14-1, for a clean sweep on Bobby Feller's six hitter.

Dale Mitchell led the assault on four Washington pitchers with five hits as Feller struck out nine.

TAKES LOOP LEAD

The slugging Boston Red Sox didn't have to go overtime, smothering the St. Louis Browns, 12-2 with 14 hits. Dom DiMaggio, still on a consecutive game hitting spree that has reached 31 contests, took over the league batting lead at .347 with two hits.

A scheduled Chicago - Philadelphia night game was postponed on account of rain.

Both the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers went on double-figure batting sprees to keep step in the National league race where the Cards still hold a half game margin.

St. Louis routed Boston, 10-2, to make it three out of four over the defending champs. Ron Northey homered and Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst each had three hits in the 17-hit barrage.

Home runs by Gil Hodges, Duke Snider and Tommy Brown led Brooklyn's 14-hit attack in an 11-3 romp over Pittsburgh. Don Newcombe, although tagged for 11 hits, hung up win No. 10.

Chicago's Johnny Schmitz ended two streaks, the New York Giants' six-game winning string and the Cubs' eight-game losing slump, with a 1-0 shutout victory. Andy Pafko provided the lone run in the second inning with a homer off Larry Jansen.

Schmitz had a no-hitter going up to the eighth when Sid Gordon, first man up, beat out a slow roller toward third. The Giants had three hits in all.

Cincinnati made it four in a row, a new high for the Reds this season, by taking a pair from the sinking Phillies, 8-5 and 9-1.

Cincy knocked out Russ Meyer with a four-run blast in the first inning of the opener and continued to bang out 11 hits including homers by Danny Litwhiler and Ted Kluszewski.

Johnny Vander Meer threw a five-hitter at the Phils in the second game, losing his shutout on Del Ennis' 14th homer in the ninth.

Galion Club Takes Easy Win, 10 To 1

Galion's cinderella American Legion junior nine was one of the five teams remaining in the running as the state tournament entered its next-to-last day at Columbus.

Galion was to meet Ironton this morning and if it can win that game, will be one of the three top teams in the state. Warren meets Lancaster in the other game, while undefeated Cincinnati Budde post stands by to take on one of the winners this afternoon. A drawing will be held to see which team plays Cincinnati.

Galion, which wasn't supposed to be in the tournament in the first place, walloped Steubenville, 10-1, in its start yesterday. Little Bill Enders gave up only four hits in pitching his second victory of the tournament.

His mates, meanwhile, drove out 12 hits and had a seven-run lead as early as the third inning. Galion got into the tournament at the last minute when Lorain was disqualified.

In other games yesterday Cincinnati beat Columbus, 4-0, and Warren eliminated Lancaster, 14-13.

Reach Finals In Girls' Meet

CHICAGO — (AP) — Fifteen year old Marlene Bauer of Los Angeles, and Pat Lieth, 17, daughter of the Elgin, Ill., country club's golf pro, met today in the 18 hole finals for the championship of the Women's Western junior golf tournament.

Miss Bauer, a high school sophomore, advanced to the final yesterday by defeating Mary Ann Villegas, New Orleans, 8 and 7.

Miss Leith eliminated Barbara McIntire of Toledo, O., co-medalist with Miss Bauer, 2 and 1. The match was a nip-and-tuck affair, although Miss McIntire was never in the lead and was three down on the 15th.

This Caddy Keeps Ideas To Himself

CHICAGO — (AP) — Dominic Colucci gets no suggestions from his caddy on how to play golf. His caddie is a great dane.

During the war Colucci, of suburban Wheeling, couldn't find caddies so he trained his dog, King, for the job. He built a special cart and harness. Colucci plays about 18 holes three times weekly and King serves as his caddie. King seldom fails to gallop right to the ball.

Richest Links Tourney Gets Ball Rolling

CHICAGO — (AP) — George S. May's $66,200 golfing marathon left the post today with half a three-in-one tourney field of 400 flailing Tam O'Shanter's profitable pastures.

For the next five days, May will conduct the 72-hole all-American championship, a combination of a $20,000 professional, men's amateur and women's open showdown.

Then, next Thursday, May offers his super - duper "world championship of golf,' a 72-hole, four-tourneys-in-one affair which carries a $35,200 men's professional purse, including $10,000 for the winner.

Leading the professional stars who teed off today were defending champion Lloyd Mangrum, roving ambassador of the host club; Ed (Porky) Oliver, who lost a 1947 all-American playoff to Bobby Locke; Johnny Palmer, Chick Harbert, Jimmy Demaret, Dutch Harrison and Clayton Heafner.

Sammy Snead, golf's leading money winner whose most recent conquest was the western open at St. Paul last week, and Middlecoff will swing into action tomorrow. Par for Tam's 6,915-yard layout is 71.

Today's top amateur threesome included defending champion Frank Stranahan, veteran Chick Evans and youthful Mac Hunter. Joe Louis, retired heavyweight boxing champion, also was in the inaugural day crowd.

Bab Zaharias, defending women's champion, won't start until tomorrow, but today's feminine shooters included such standouts as western open champion Louise Suggs, Betty Jameson, Bettye Mims White, Dot Kielty and Jean Hopkins.

Toledo Southpaw Authors Initial '49 AA No-Hitter

TOLEDO — (AP) — Walter Nothe, 31 - year - old left - hand pitcher, hurled a no-hit 2 to 0 victory for Toledo in an American association contest with Minneapolis tonight in the first half of a double header. The last-place hens also won the night-cap, 9 to 5, for their first double win since early June.

Nothe went an extra inning in the scheduled seven inning opener for eight no-hit innings, climaxed when his battery mate, catcher Eddie Mordarski, homered with one on and one out.

The only other no-hit game ever pitched by a Toledo hurler was a seven-inning affair by Buck Ross on Aug. 1, 1948. Nothe's triumph was the first no-hitter of the association season, and the first since Pat McGlothin of St. Paul beat Milwaukee on Sept. 8, 1948.

Nothe walked seven but his mates played errorless ball and the millers advanced only three men as far as second.

'20 Cleveland Team To Play

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Plans for putting Cleveland's 1920 world champion Indians back on the field once again were announced today.

President Bill Veeck of the tribe said the old timers would be asked to play an exhibition contest on Sept. 4 against a team of Indian all-stars.

Cleveland fans will pick the all-stars. Any players with the tribe after 1920 and not on the present squad will be eligible.

The contest is to be played as a preliminary to the Cleveland-St. Louis game.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Farm Units Win Praise

County Groups Help Map Legislation

Richland county's 30 Farm Bureau advisory councils along with those of other counties have had a big share in developing legislative thinking in the Ohio senate and legislature, according to a Ohio Farm Bureau statement released today.

The statement points out that Richland county Bureau members attended a hearing on the "rural telephone bill." The bill, in its final form, as signed by Gov. Frank J. Lausche, limited companies to 10-party lines and made it mandatory that telephone companies extend services into the areas not now served.

Another Farm Bureau resolution urged that the present Ohio law relating to strip mining be amended and enforced and that funds be appropriated to make the law operative. A stronger law was passed requiring that spoil banks be reduced to gently rolling hillsides, with increased funds appropriated to render the law more effective.

Several other advisory council resolutions became law in 98th General assembly, the statement said.

Kiwanians Visit Mt. Gilead Club

About 30 members of the Mansfield Kiwanis club chartered a bus last night for a trip to Mt. Gilead where they attended their annual "pass-the-gavel" meeting

Marion D. Ward, chairman of the inter-club committee, said the Mansfield club is bidding for the "pass-the-gavel" trophy which is awarded to the unit that covers the most mileage and has the best attendance on the "around-the-district" tours.

Girls Picnic

Members of the Future Homemakers 4-H club enjoyed a wiener roast Wednesday night when they swam and then helped make decorations to put on their booth at the Richland county Junior fair. Project books were handed in and members reported most of the projects completed for this season.

Man Predicts Own Death, Found Dead

TOLEDO — (AP) — Missac Harutian, 68-year-old retired hotel clerk, had a premonition yesterday morning.

"Well, I'll be dead tonight," he told a friend.

Hotel employes entered his room yesterday afternoon and found him slumped in the bathroom—dead after a heart attack.

Butter Reserve Up, No Cost Raise Seen

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Reserves of butter now appear to be ample to protect consumers against a sharp price advance next fall and winter. Agriculture department reports indicate private and government holdings are equivalent to slightly more than one month's needs. This is the biggest reserve for this time of the year since before the war.

Father Questioned

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Two-year-old Patricia Ann Morgan died of a brain hemorrhage today, and police held her father for questioning after he admitted slapping the baby because she dirtied the floor.

Helicopter Saves Youth

YOSEMITE, Calif. — (AP) — A 12-year-old boy with fractured skull was brought out of one of the wildest areas of the Sierra Nevada by helicopter yesterday.

Terence (Kayo) Hallinan, son of a prominent San Francisco attorney had been lying in a sleeping bag near Benson lake since he was hurt when he fell off a horse last Sunday.

Test pilot Jay Demming of the Hiller Helicopter company, flew at 9,300 feet on the rescue mission.

It was the second try by helicopter to reach the boy. The first pilot earlier this week said he couldn't fly over the mountain peaks. The altitude of Benson lake is 8,500 feet. It is surrounded by peaks and is 22 miles from the nearest road.

Terence was taken to Lewis Memorial hospital in Yosemite valley.

The boy said he was tired but "helicopters sure are nifty."

His condition was reported as good.

Friendly House Asks Court Approval of $45,000 Loan

The Mansfield Friendly House association has filed a petition in common pleas court for permission to mortgage the new Friendly House property for $45,000 to secure a loan.

M. P. Wolcott, chairman of the Friendly House board, said yesterday the association did not have enough funds to pay final construction bills for its new building.

He doubted if it would be necessary to borrow the full $45,000 amount, but explained the association would request a court order for that much in the event of possible contingencies.

Wolcott said construction costs for the new building were greater than estimates had indicated. Current expenses and final contractors' bills will be paid out of the borrowed funds.

The association's $250,000 two-story building for which plans were launched in 1946 has just been completed. It replaces the old North Main street structure which for years has been inadequate for the recreation and service activities of the organization.

The petition states the association wants to borrow the money for religious and charitable work and intends to secure the money by mortgaging the five North Mulberry street lots on which the new building and grounds are located.

Consider Housing

WASHINGTON — (INS) — A Senate committee today takes up a bill carrying one billion dollars in loans to private rental housing cooperatives and broadening the GI home loan program.

U. S. Holds Chiang To Blame For Red Conquest of China

ored American help to Chinese unity.

Hurley then went to work on Chiang and soon reported to Washington. Chiang finally was persuaded, he said, that the Russians were not supporting the Chinese communists and was convinced he could "unite the military forces of China against Japan."

Long months of negotiation followed. Unity did not progress. Hurley fell out with the American career diplomats working with him and finally resigned with a violent denunciation of American diplomacy.

THE YALTA DEAL

The United States meanwhile made the Yalta deal with Russia for restoration of old Czarist port, base and rail rights in Manchuria.

This agreement by President Roosevelt is defended by Acheson as necessary to assure Russia's entrance into the war against Japan.

Finally General George C. Marshall, with orders from Pre dent Truman to pacify and unify China, followed the trail of failures to China in December 1945. Marshall put heavy pressures on both Chiang and the communist leaders to make concessions but his efforts collapsed in a full-scale renewal of the cival war in 1946.

Acheson, like Marshall earlier, blamed the final failure mainly on the "deep-seated mutual suspicion between the Kuomintang and the Chinese communist party." Stilwell had said years before that the key to the Chinese situation was the struggle for power between the two groups.

The United States continued to give extensive help to Chiang in arms, money and advice. In a sense it thus followed a two-lane policy. On one side it urged communist - nationalist peace and unity; on the other it armed the nationalists to smash the communists. The justification given for this duality is that Chiang's government was the recognized government and fully entitled to American help.

It was after the Marshall mission, that Wedemeyer went to China (1947). Despite his recommendations for a five-year aid program, subject to reforms by Chiang, no large-scale American government action developed.

Acheson reviewed the extent of American aid to China, saying grants and credits totaled about $2,000,000,000 since the war, plus about $1,000,000.00 worth of war surplus (original cost) marked down for the Chinese to $232,000,000.

But a "large proportion of the military supplies," Acheson said, has fallen into communist hands "through the military ineptitude of the Nationalist leaders, their defections and surrenders, and the absence among their forces of the will to fight."

Captures of U. S. equipment, according to the white paper, constituted a substantial source of arms for the communists.

Unusual Lustron-RFC Deal Puzzles Committee

Ohio Firm Bares Huge Cash Loss

Will Seek More Millions In Loans

WASHINGTON —(AP)—A House committee pondered today how Ohio industrialist Carl G. Strandlund borrowed $35,500,000 from the government, put up $1,000 of his own money and his patent rights and set up his Lustron corporation, to mass produce prefabricatdd houses.

Strandlund and officials of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, who made the loans, told the story to the House banking and currency committee yesterday.

Strandlund had told the committee his company is within sight of making money on its venture, but that he will need even more RFC millions to tide it over.

At conclusion of the committee's inquiry, Rep. Cole (R-Kans) who had questioned the witnesses sharply, told a reporter:

"Congress must close the door against any more deals like this one. But whether we should pinch off further loans to Lustron, and possibly force its collapse and the loss of probably a big share of the $35,500,000—that's another matter. I just don't know what to say."

Strandlund, a portly man with a small mustache, told the committee his corporation is losing about $1,000,000 a month now, but will be making a profit within 90 days, and he hopes to pay back the loans within six months. Some of the loans fall due in September.

Strandlund said the company is turning out a prefabricated house every 20 minutes during an eight hour shift, five days a week.

Richard C. Dyas, an RFC official, told the committee "this plant can produce the houses, there is no question of that," and there is a "tremendous" potential market for the structures in the mass housing market."

Dyas dedlined to answer a question as to "whether or not the RFC is satisfied that this loan is a good investment." The transaction is so unusual, he replied that "I don't know how anyone can say they are or are not satisfied."

Rep. Spence (D-Ky), the committee chairman, refused to permit Cole to probe into the salaries of top Lustron executivies. Strandlund is reputed to draw a salary of $50.000 a year and one of his vice presidents, E. Merl Young, $18,000.

Strandlund and Dyas said Young, who resigned from the RFC to join the Lustron organization, never influenced any of the loans.

Strandlund, preparing to return to Ohio, said he felt he had convinced the committee "nothing under the table" is involved in his venture.

Boy Plays With Potent Jap Greniade

CHICAGO —(UP)— Six-year-old Michael Kuzola found an odd-looking object in a junk pile near his home here.

He shook and squeezed it. Then, his curiosity satisfied, he threw it back.

A neighbor became suspicious of the object and called police. They confirmed his suspicions. It was a live grenade of a Japanese type which explodes when shaken roughly.

Work Near Completion

Repairs are being completed at the city's swimming pool at North Lake park, but no date has been set for re-opening the pool, Park Supt. Frank Burton said yesterday.

A meeting will be held early next week to discuss the opening of the pool, Park Board President Gordon L. Watson said.

The pool was closed about a month ago for repairs. The filter plant has been repaired and a new pump is in the process of being installed, Burton said.

The city leased the pool for a one-year period from a benefactor for a token payment of $1.

Says Congress Not Likely To Broaden Farm Quota Controls

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congressional critics who contend the Brannan farm plan would regiment farmers concentrated their fire on the production subsidy plan for price supports.

Actually, there is room for much greater government controls in Brannan's request for authority to impose rigid marketing quotas on a big list of products not now subject to quotas. Included would be hogs, cattle, sheep, lambs, milk, eggs, poultry, soybeans, flaxseed, oats, and vegetables. Even so, this Congress is not likely to broaden marketing quota powers beyond presently-covered crops of wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts.

A Big Surprise!

Appointment of Knox T. Hutchinson, Murfreesboro, Tenn., farmer, to be assistant secretary of agriculture came like a bolt out of the blue.

Few in Washington farm circles had ever heard of him. His selection has started speculation that the Truman administration seeks to wean support away from Tennessee Democratic Congressman Gore.

Butter Staging Comeback.

Government reports show that butter production and consumption — which dropped to very low levels during war—are running 15 to 20 per cent above a year ago. Butter's big competitor — margarine — is losing a little ground from last year. Output was down five per cent during first four months this year.

Price Forecasts.

The Agriculture department predicts prices of dairy products are likely to increase during the coming months. This is the time of year when production eases off.

The department still sticks to its earlier forecasts of greatly reduced hog prices in the fall and early winter. Price supports for hogs, yet to be announced, will show December price drops 20 per cent below those of late this summer.

Egg Troubles Ahead.

A government survey showing farmers have raised 17 per cent more chickens this year than last has price-support officials worried. It could mean a flood of eggs next year far beyond consumer demands.

Unless Congress changes the law, the government would have to buy up the surplus under a produce price support program.

Employment Gains 1,000 In Month

OSES Reports 'Definite Upswing'

Mansfield's employment situation is definitely on the upswing, according to figures released today by C. W. Handley, manager of the local Ohio State Employment service.

In June, employment was 7,000 under the October, 1948, peak. By the end of July employment had gained more than 1,000 in Mansfield. The employment office made 205 placements alone in July, Handley said.

This figures does not represent persons who got jobs through means other than the employment office. But the July placement figure is 25 per cent of the placement figure for the first six months this year.

Handley said that in the major industries there were 14,152 persons employed in Mansfield at the end of July. In January there were 18,475 and last October about 21,000.

Despite the wide difference in the July and November figures "there is a noticeable trend toward an upturn, Handley explained.

Council-Manager Proposal Advancing

APPROACH to a vote on proposed change to the council-manager plan of city government in Mansfield has been advanced by prompt and unanimous council action in passing an ordinance to place this issue on a ballot at the November election.

This follows filing of petitions which have been circulated in recent weeks and which contained 2,233 signatures, or 433 more than legal requirement.

This gives leeway for disregarding any signatures that may be declared invalid, although those written in pencil had already been eliminated.

The talk of determining the validity of a sufficient number of signatures now devolves upon City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch, and with the care given by those who conducted the canvass for signers it seems practically assured that the accepted total will meet requirements.

When this has been determined there will be need for further spread of information regarding claimed advantages of the council-manager plan over the present council-mayor system, so that voters may fully understand the proposal before marking their ballots.

Traffic Deaths Gain In County

AUTOMOBILES have become such a general means of convenient transportation that the dangers involved in their operation are sometimes forgotten, as in the case of the Wednesday afternoon accident on the Lucas road in which Charles O. Robinson, well-known auctioneer and retired farmer, was fatally injured.

The car, according to report by state highway patrolmen, skidded and made a complete turn on the rain-slickened highway, which is not an uncommon occurrence —sometimes without serious results—but on this occasion it resulted in a death.

Whatever speed limits are prescribed it needs always to be taken into account that road conditions and other elements enter into determination of safe speed and that extreme caution is sometimes necessary in avoiding unsuspected hazards.

The record of fourteen traffic deaths in Richland county thus far in 1949—as compared with ten during the same period last year—serves as stern warning that more care need be exercised by operators of motor vehicles.

Polio Still Mystery Disease

WITH the infantile paralysis season at hand, Mansfielders have read with interest the statement of Health Commissioner Harry Wain that this county is not considered a heavy polio area. Dr. Wain based his assertion, of course, upon past records. There is no way of predicting the future of polio with certainty.

The terrifying aspects of the disease are that not even the experts know what causes it or where it will strike next. Advice toward prevention, physicians admit, is merely a series of suggestions on how to keep in good general health.

Polio is a year-around disease, according to state health officials, but it reaches its peak in this vicinity in the latter part of August and early September.

Fear of polio does no good whatsoever. All the average person can do is guard his own general health and that of his family.

What can be helpful is that where polio strikes, a complete record of symptoms and activities of the patient prior to the illness be submitted to medical authorities.

No one knows, but some simple bit of information may take the mystery out of the disease and help science to defeat it. After all, the world's population was once sharply reduced by the Black Plague all because no one was observant enough to know that fleas and rats carried the germs. And yellow fever's scourge was curbed when the anopheles mosquito was discovered to be its carrier.

Polio can be conquered by knowledge but not by fear.

Gary Women Become Crusaders

THE Women's Citizens Committee of Gary, Ind., attracted national attention a few months ago by opening a war against gambling and prostitution in their city. Now the group has launched a new attack. It set up picket lines around places it said were gambling houses, bookie joints and bawdy houses.

Tragic consequences could ensue if the underworld elements which live off such forms of vice should decide to fight back in their own peculiar fashion. The fighting rules of gangland are rough and unpleasant.

But if they can make their picket lines stick, and if they have chosen accurately the places to be picketed, the women of Gary could hardly find a more effective channel for their campaign. If there is one thing above all others which the patron of a respectable gambling joint or bawdy house does not want, it is to be observed by his respectable neighbors.

Anniversary of Oil Industry

ON AUGUST 27, the American oil industry will be 90 years old. On that historic date in 1859 Colonel Edwin L. Drake brought in the nation's first commercial oil well at Titusville, Pennsylvania.

Today oil is one of the basic necessities—practically every American uses it in many forms each day. But matters were very different then. Colonel Drake was ridiculed. He was harassed by creditors. He was forced to contrive his own tools and techniques as he went along, on a trial and error basis.

But he had a full measure of perseverance and ingenuity—traits which still mark the great industry he founded.

What Some Other People Are Saying

Increasing Number of Pension Schemes Bring Conflict For Fruits of Production

SANTA BARBARA — One of the outstanding features of the great Truman inflation has been the fast growth of pension plans of all sorts. The veterans, as might have been expected, have come first.

Then, with John L. Lewis in the lead, we have had pensions mired up with almost every drive by the unions for higher returns.

In the states, especially in western states, there have been notable gains by pensioners. And a cardinal point in the Truman program has been the broadening of Federal schemes for social security.

Since all pensions provisions, including private insurance and private savings, must draw their support from the productivity of our economic system, these plans have a vital relationship to each other.

It is about time for our economists to take collective account of all these charges and to tell us what the bill will be 10 or 25 years from now.

And it is high time that the various governmental agencies concerned and the unions take note of what may happen to their pet plans if all their competitors get what they want, too.

This whole movement has been like an oil rush into a field where a well draws from the potential resources of every other well and the rule of devil-take-the-hindmost prevails. A lot of old folks are going to spend their last years in bitter lamentation if all this goes on without some coordinated thinking.

Cost Not Considered.

UNDER the kind of fereral administration that this country needs, the President and his economic advisers would do that coordinated thinking and figuring for all of us.

But the President and his social security people are contestants in this battle for a slice of the pie. And their demands, which are so extravagant that even Congress has roughly rebuffed them, have had no relationship to the real means of ultimate fulfillment.

The union bosses are eager to get what they can from employers and thus earn the continued support of dues-payers.

The old-age-pension organizations in the states are concerned in getting votes and not in studying economic trends. Their leaders, as well as Lewis, Green, Murray, Reuther, et al, will be mouldering in ornate sarcophagi long before their people awake in dissillusionment from their dream of security.

The plain fact is that all these obligations cannot be met out of any predictable increase in the productivity and wealth of the nation. Inexorable economic laws will close down on many of these plans.

Take the John L. Lewis plan as an example. His pension fund for miners over 62 years of age is fed by a private tax on every ton of coal. It is supposed to pay beneficiaries at the rate of $100 a month. But already we hear that this fund is inadequate because the number of tons of coal upon which royalty is levied is diminishing.

Two sides of the Lewis strategy are in conflict. His demands are enforced by making coal scarce. When he orders the miners to take a phony vacation, the flow into the pension fund comes down to a trickle.

The higher the price of coal—loaded as it is with royalties and what not—the more inventive minds will work to find substitutes for coal. Fair Deal friends of labor work for the building of water-power projects which cut the demand for coal. And the atomic age, vigorously promoted by billions of federal dollars, may turn coal into a waste product.

Meanwhile, mounting government costs produce more inflation and cut the value of every dollar which must give bread and butter to old people.

And every person who through thrift has gathered something for old age, and then through taxation and inflation loses his savings, will join the ranks of those who want more pensions. We are living in an economic squirrel cage.

Frankly Speaking

Arms and the Critics

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — The arguments about President Truman's arms program will get more complicated as time goes on.

But some of the basic complaints already have taken pretty clear shape and this will explain them, after a moment of background.

A couple of weeks ago the Senate approved our joining the Atlantic Pact.

Under it we agreed to help defend any other country which is a member of the pact and is attacked. Most of the signers are in western Europe.

Further, the pact says the signers will help one another get armed against any attack which might come.

Since the U. S. is the biggest signer, most of the help with arms must come from us.

So President Truman has asked Congress to vote $1,450,000,000 for the first year to help arm western Europe and any other countries he may choose.

Now for the arguments—

Some members of Congress think $1,450,000,000 is too much for this country to spend in a year.

The amount may be cut down before Congress approves the program, if it approves.

But even if this country hands out $1,450,000,000 for one year, that won't be all it figures to spend on the program.

Some of our top government officials think the program may have to last three to five years before we'll really be finished arming Europe.

Tremendous Power.

BUT another point of dispute, and it's an important one, revolves a part of the arms bill called section three. It says in effect:

The President can help any nation he wants to help, any time he wants to do it, in any way he chooses, so long as he thinks it's to the benefit of the United States in the long run.

This section is the biggest target of the critics right now because they say:

They're afraid that—by letting the President decide when he wants to help, and how—they'll be giving him more power than any president in history. Why?

It gives him a blank check, they say, to do anything he wants to do about military tie-ups with other countries and in the end this could get us into war.

So section three may be rewritten and toned down and tightened up, cutting away some of the presidential power there, before Congress is willing to pass the bill.

Another argument against the arms bill is woven, not around the arms bill itself, but around a section of the Atlantic Pact—called Article 9—which ties in with the arms program. Article 9 says:

"The parties hereby establish a council, on which each of them shall be represented, to consider matters concerning the implementation of this treaty. The council shall be so organized as to be able to meet promptly at any time . . ."

This defense council—a planning and strategy board made up of those nations which signed the Atlantic Pact—hasn't been established yet.

Some members of Congress agrue that it's silly to go handing out arms to Europe before the defense council can decide carefully on how much goes where.

They say, further, that Congress ought to vote only interim arms help—only a part of the $1,450,000,000 asked by President Truman for the year—until the defense council can start working.

But top government officials, testifying before Congress, have urged that the full program be pushed through at once, that speed is needed to get Europe armed.

One former official who testified, General George C. Marshall, said he understands there's pretty clear agreement already among the western nations on what needs to be done.

How Ban On Tanforan Track Was Lifted

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Gen. Harry Vaughan, the President's jovial, backslapping, poker-player military aide, holds the official title of "coordinator of veterans affairs." As such he is supposed to help veterans.

But yesterday this column showed how, when the Tanforan race track in California violated building regulations aimed to speed veterans' housing, General Vaughan used his influence not to help the veterans, but to help the race track. His known influence was brought to bear in the fall of 1947.

Here is what happened. After Guy Standifer and other Tanforan officials were jailed in California for violating housing regulations, Eugene Mori, new president of the race track, called on the office of the housing expediter in Washington in October 1947.

With him came the fabulous Greek friend of General Vaughan's, John Maragon, who had accompanied President Truman to Potsdam, caused the demotion of an air force general, once held a White House pass and a special White House parking reservation.

This is the same Maragon who has demanded that his columnist be called before a Senate investigating committee. Needless to say I should be happy to appear.

Mori and Maragon informed the housing expediter's office that the Tanforan track was now under new ownership, though how they offered any proof remains a mystery, since the wartime owner, Joe Reinfeld, never was known to the public. Reinfeld, one of the biggest rum-runners of prohibition days, was the chief secret owner, and his name only leaked out on January 15, 1949, when he was sued in federal court.

Fifteen months earlier, however—in October, 1947—Eugene Mori had told government officials that he was Tanforan's new owner.

Gen. Vaughan Intervenes.

IT WAS at about this point that General Vaughan first intervened. Apparently he didn't like the way the housing expediter treated his bosom pal, Maragon, for he complained about it to his other pal, lobbyist James Hunt, and a few days later Hunt showed up at the housing expediter's office alone.

Hunt told housing officials that his friends from the Tanforan track hadn't been treated courteously. He also warned that Housing Chief Frank Creedon could not afford to get in wrong with his "friends," though he did not identify who those friends were.

Housing officials blew up, said there had been no lack of courtesy and did not change the injunction which banned the use of building materials by Tanforan.

Hunt and Maragon Rivals.

THE lobbying talks dragged on. Hunt and Maragon vied with each other to see who could do the most for Tanforan. At one point, lobbyist Hunt complained to housing officials that he was being pestered by Maragon, that Maragon telephones at all hours of the day and night, even insulted Mrs. Hunt.

At another time Maragon phoned Jack O'Brien of the housing expediter's office, said he was "Drew Pearson" and demanded to know what was "going on around there." The call insinuated skulduggery and was aimed to upset Hunt's lobbying efforts.

After more than a months, of this, General Vaughan apparently concluded that his boy friends weren't equal to the job. So he telephoned Housing Expediter Tighe Woods himself and asked for an appointment. Later that afternoon Vaughan appeared in Woods' office, explained that he was personally interested in Tanforan, argued that the track's ownership had changed, and that the government's policy was to grant building permits to clean up fire hazards.

Tighe Woods had then been in office only six days, and the influence of the White House was potent.

He sent a memo to the justice department stating that the injunction against Tanforan could be lifted. Simultaneously Tanforan submitted notices from the obliging city of San Bruno claiming that the race track was a fire and health hazard unless cleaned up.

So, at long, last, the ban on Tanforan was lifted—chiefly on General Vaughan's plea that its ownership had changed.

As of this week, however, justice department officials, when queried, said they had no evidence that the ownership of the race track had really changed.

Therefore, it may still be that Joe Reinfeld, who once ran the biggest fleet of rum boats off the Jersey coast and who was once indicted for the murder of a prohibition agent, is still the real owner of Tanforan and the man who really profited from General Vaughan's lobbying against the veterans.

It is true that track President Guy Standifer was out, having gone to jail; and that Eugene Mori was the new president. But according to a federal court deposition published by the Newark Star-Ledger on Jan. 15, 1949, Reinfeld was the chief owner of the track.

Assignment: America

He Simplifies French

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — It is an old axiom that all Americans are lousy linguists. To hear some critics from the Mother Country tell it, we don't even make so good with the English lengwich.

So it is with great pleasure that this column gives the lie to the above canard and unveils a true-blue American whose mastery of free French is revolutionizing that language for use at home or abroad.

He is Abel Green, erudite editor of "Variety," the bible of show business, which has long been printed exclusively in one of the unknown tongues left over from the tower of Babel.

Mr. Green is not only able to read his own publication but understand it, a feat which many students find more difficult than Caesar's commentaries in the original. "Stix Nix Hix Pix" even makes sense to him, when published as a "Variety" headline.

It is only to be expected that a man with such a natural flair for languages would eventually look to far horizons. Spurred on by a vision of hands-across-the-sea, noblesse oblige and commencement de la fin, Mr. Green in recent years has been tampering with French.

All Very Simple.

A SENSIBLE man who believes the French language should mean what it says, which it so seldom does, Mr. Green has invented an easy system of learning it which is to the Berlitz system what that method formerly was to sign language or smoke signals.

At the moment, the second edition of Abel's Free French Lexicon is in the mail, a fact to cause rejoicing among all serious students of Romance languages.

How many millions of Americans have found themselves in Paris, unable to think of the word or words for such a simply, homely commodity as "dandruff?"

Mr. Green has charged to the rescue. He freely translates it as "blanc mange." This will give you some small idea of the really helpful service this modest linguist is performing and the international void he is filling.

So you're still in Paris, and you want to say—why, I leave it to your own discretion—"She fought for her honor." Mr. Green makes it easy with "piece de resistance."

You ask the concierge at your pension if the Follies Bergere is any good this year, and he replies "Parfum honneste." Consult the Green Glossary and you know that he thinks the show "stinks but in an honest way."

Suppose you are rich enough to dine at "Maxim's" and you have the pressed duck with trimmings. And then suppose, when you get back to your pension, you have un supcon de indigestion. You explain it all by saying "vive le belge," which, in a running Green translation, means "Something I et, no doubt."

For general conversation, to prove that one is au courant with Hollywood gossip, there is "pate de foi gras" ("Pat O'Brien wears a wig").

Or, if conversation is on an even higher intellectual plane, for stark simplicity nothing beats "clair de lune" or "Mrs. Luce is nuts."

Naturally, this is only a brief sampling of Mr. Green's great labor in behalf of Franco-American rapprochement.

Of course, some purists may find it just so much "sois sage" ("baloney") but for my money, it's the ideal tongue on rye.

Dave Boone Says:

ROMANIA, under the communists, has dissolved all Catholic welfare bodies, including St. Vincent de Paul, world famous for sacrifice and charity, and ordered priests, nuns and monks to retire to three specified monasteries, go to homes for the aged, or seek jobs through employment agencies. This is one more step in the policy that will ultimately turn the tide against communism.

* * *

Those whom the gods would destroy they first made mad. And anybody mad enough to war on sisters of mercy is pretty far gone.

* * *

When you decide the Good Samaritan is a proper target for secret police and the clenched fist, you are outraging most people's sense of fair play and civilized behavior.

* * *

The communists are specializing, however, in doing this. And from that kind of war no religion is safe.

Speaking of Your Health

Poorly-Fitting Dentures

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

CHEWING not only prepares food for the stomach but the stomach for food. In other words, the chewing of palatable food stimulates the flow in the stomach of these juices necessary to digestion.

In addition, of course, the teeth break up the food so that it is more easily taken care of by the stomach and bowel. Hence, it goes without saying, that it is important to chew food well.

Poorly-fitting dentures or false teeth are one of the chief causes of inadequate chewing. Even normal people vary in the degree of biting strength which they can exert but those with false teeth are often unconsciously reluctant to use their full biting power for fear that chewing will be painful.

Choice of Foods.

Persons with low biting power must necessarily limit their choice of foods. This is especially true of those who have severe disorders affecting gums or supporting tissues of the teeth.

Many of the important parts of the modern diet, such as fruits and vegetables, present difficulties in chewing for those who do not use enough biting force. In such instances, attempts are made to off-set the difficulty by swallowing larger or coarser food masses or by choosing softer foods for the diet.

This frequently leads to poor nutrition, especially among elderly persons. Thus it is important for all persons, and especially the elderly, to visit the dentist regularly so that the teeth may be put in the best possible condition.

If a denture is necessary, it should be properly fitted so that chewing can be carried on effectively.

Bear in mind that if a person cannot chew his food as he should because of pain or even the fear that chewing will cause pain, he is likely to suffer from malnutrition due to the lack of all the necessary foods.

Furthermore, the swallowing of large lumps of food may lead to irritation of the stomach and digestive upsets.

Disease Strikes Spinal Cord

Polio of Today Cripples Fewer Victims

By H. W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Children have had polio — infantile paralysis—since ancient times. Today a higher proportion recover without crippling.

This is the only gain, and all in the present century. The gain comes from better nursing, and not from anything else.

Almost everyone has had polio, but only a few even become sick. How the disease works in most of us who don't get ill is entirely unknown.

But what happens in the sick is well known It is in your spinal cord This cord is the cable carrying nerves from the brain to branch out, like switchboard wires, to all parts of your body.

One set of nerves in this cord governs muscles Polio chooses, for some mysterious reason, to attack these particular nerves and no others. These nerves are made of horn-shaped cells.

Polio damages or destroys horn cells Among all nerves these horn cells alone are unable to regenerate themselves Once gone, they break the muscle-nerve cable for life

Without these nerves in the spine, muscles shrink No other part of your body is damaged.

Polio can strike at any point along the spinal cable. If it hits high up, it paralyzes arms and hands. If in the mid-spine, polio hits the muscles of breathing. If low down, it paralyzes leg muscles.

There is an additional point of attack, in the "bulb," a rounded thing, half the size of a thumb, at the top of your spine This location of polio brings most of the deaths

The cause of polio is a virus, a very tiny particle made of protein How this particle does its destruction is unknown

Two kinds of polio virus are known More are suspected You can have polio more than once, one attack for each kind of virus

In epidemics, those who recover without any bad effects, range from 40 to 70 per cent Sometimes there will be 70 per cent complte recoveries without any medical care whatever Sometimes the death rates and crippling are high despite care

This contradiction is due to the virus being different from year to year Sometimes virulent and sometimes mild

In epidemics, hardly more than one child in 300 gets visible polio. The highest susceptibility is from ages four to nine. But polio can hit adults, and recently in the United states the adult victims have been increasing.

Nursing care, to help the body fight its own battle, is all that can be done in polio There are two special aids One is heat The other, movement of stricken muscles Both are sister Elizabeth Kenny's contributions and have done more than anything else to reduce crippling Others than Sister Kenny knew the merits of these two treatments, but she was the person who did most to convince doctors. Both threat the paralyzed muscles and not the horn cells Nothing now known does any good for the stricken cells in spinal cords.

Early diagnosis — detecting the disease, is the most important single thing to be done. And the most difficult. The only scientific proof is to use spinal cord fluid to make a monkey sick. This test takes weeks and hundreds of dollars.

A recent French test promises to do something similar with mice in two weeks Both are too slow to help your child

Keen doctors and nurses have to make the decision with the eyes of experience

DON'T GET CHILLED — Sitting in front of a fan when overheated is bad Remove wet garments at once Keep warm clothes handy in case of need This is one way to aid in defeating polio

Israeli Asks UN to Continue Arms Embargo for Near East

Say Jordan Broke Its Armistice

Bunche Urges Lifting of Bans

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. —(UP) — Israel yesterday asked the United Nations Security council to continue its embargo on arms for the Near East.

The Israeli demand for a ban on arms shipments to the troubled Holy Land came immediately after acting U. N. Palestine Mediator Ralph J. Bunche had recommended to the Security council that all restrictions except a cease-fire order, be lifted.

Bunche told the council that the "entire heritage of restrictions which developed out of the undeclared war should be done away with."

But Aubrey H. Eban, permanent Israeli representative to the U. N., told the 11-nation council:

"We have no hesitation in saying that the most elementary prudence dictates the maintenance of the Security council's present arms policy."

The council was considering Bunche's final report on armistice negotiations. Bunche, expecting to finish his Palestine assignment with this report, was invited to sit with the council as was Eban.

Major issue before the council was whether to continue the ban on arms to Israeli and the Arab states imposed 14 months ago in a resolution directing the warring countries to conclude a truce.

Eban charged that Jordan had not lived up to the terms of its armistice with Israeli.

Bunche submitted an eight page report to the Security council and submitted to questioning on it.

The Negro mediator, generally considered the architect of Palestine peace, told the Security council that only the cease-fire order laid down by the U. N. in July, 1948, should be continued as restriction in the Holy Land.

Sales Tax Total Down

Richland county's sales tax receipts for the week ended July 23 were $11,257 under the receipts for the same period last year, according to a report issued by State Treasurer Don H. Ebright.

The county's collections for the first three weeks of July this year total $85,514. This is $18,231 under last year's total for the corresponding period.

Area counties showed the following changes in the week's receipts from the same period in 1948: Ashland, up $1,402; Crawford, down $205; Holmes, up $162; Huron, down $235; Knox, down $359; Morrow, down $635.

Purchase of 25-Cent Phone Book Reunites Father, Son

DETROIT — (UP) — An ailing man's long search for the son he left 43 years ago seemed hopeless. He feared he would die before he found him.

Then, by a strange quirk of fate, a tramp on a San Francisco dock offered to sell him a worn Detroit telephone director. He bought it for 25 cents.

Because of that, William Geddes, 67, is going to see his son again.

Detroit attorney Harold Geddes, 44, told yesterday how he talked by phone with his father, who is in a San Francisco hospital.

"For the first few seconds he couldn't say anything but hello." Harold said. "He was all choked up. Then he told me some of the things that had happened."

The elder Geddes, a railroad engineer, disappeared mysteriously from his home in Rochester N. Y., in 1906. He left behind his wife and two small sons. The family never heard from him again. His wife, now dead, remarried.

William told his son he had gone to California, found another wife and started life anew. He had a son and daughter by his second wife.

During World War II, he joined the merchant marine, serving throughout the war in combat areas of the Pacific.

After the war, he was stricken with a heart ailment. Gradually the thought that he might die soon arouse in him a desire to find his former family.

He started writing letters to police departments in eastern cities asking them to help. He wrote 112 letters in all, but each was a new disappointment.

Then he bought that phone directory. Listed there was a "Harold Geddes." Before the father and son made connections, the elder man suffered another heart attack and entered the hospital. He spoke with his son from there.

They were only able to talk a few minutes. William told Harold:

"All this excitement has made me pretty tired. I guess I'd better go lie down now."

UMW Ordered To Pay For Ousters

WASHINGTON — (UP) — John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers were ordered Thursday to pay $500 to each of two miners who lost their jobs in a Tennessee mine for fighting the union.

The money goes into three funds for various street department work.

The state makes a distribution of the money when gasoline tax money in the treasury reaches $1 for each automobile registered in the state during 1948.

Mansfield's check shows there were 15,489 automobiles registered here in 1948, Kelley said.

Move Surprises Western Allies

Unions Wield Power In Reich Politics

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN — (AP) — For the first time in 20 years, the voice of labor is speaking out with authority in Germany where unions have become one of the most important factors in daily life.

In West Germany, the unions have grown to the point where they exercise considerable influence on the government. In the Soviet zone, union membership is often compulsory, by edict of the communists. Nevertheless, the Russian zone politicians take the trouble to get the union behind them whenever they launch a new venture.

The German office seeker is required these days to reckon on what the union wants before he drafts his campaign.

This is a condition the allies hoped one day would be brought about when they wrecked Hitler's one - man scheme of things, but it came about faster than they expected or hoped.

Some officials estimate organized labor in all Germany now at between 12,000,000 and 13,000,000 out of a population of approximately 65,000,000. This would be the highest peak ever attained.

This is a far cry from 1929 when the economic crash hit the world and Germany's labor unions nearly cracked. They were so impotent that Hitler was able to abolish them completely without stirring up a row.

West German political parties, girding for the federal elections August 14, now go out of the way to appeal to the unions. The communist propaganda machine in the Russian zone is constantly drumming up culture programs, sport events, and other activities for the working man who pays his dues.

The Soviet zone union is only a latent force, under the Russian-communist system. Strikes are unheard-of because they are not permitted. There is little independence. But Western Germans say the communists don't realize what they have built. The first chance the east zone unions get to strike a blow for independent thinking, they'll seize it.

In the west, the unions have privileges of an American trade group. They may strike and picket. They may make demands—and they do. They may petition their government leaders for relief from this or that — and they do. They may bargain for a better deal from their employers — and they do.

The labor council in Western Germany speaking for the combined unions, went direct to the bizonal government recently and said in no uncertain terms they wanted a long-range, four point housing program.

German leaders now say that housing will be on the top of the agenda for the new federal government when it is formed this fall.

The western German trade unions and cooperative societies have organized schools to offer courses on trade unionism, political economy, labor administration, public speaking, business, and related social and economic problems. They are modeled after similar schools in Sweden.

A windfall from the nazis awaits the West German trade unions once their finances are straightened out. Military government is holding six properties of the old nazi labor front's bank, listed as being worth 231,020,335 reichsmarks, about $65,000,000. As soon as the labor unions can establish their own bank they will get these properties as the liquidating agents.

The western unions met a severe test of their strength in recent months. With unemployment mounting in West Germany to 1250,000, the unions nevertheless have been able to get wage increases this summer for more than a million manual and office workers. In the first five months of 1949, two-fifths of all wage and salary earners in the American and British zone received increases averaging ten per cent.

This is quite a step in Germany where most jobs are bracketed at certain wage scales and a man knows from year to year—and almost generation to generation — exactly what can be expected in the pay envelope for the type of work he is doing.

MISS KARAS SPEAKS VOWS WITH ROGER VERNARD COE

Wedding Ceremony Solemnized Before Background of Gladioli, Roses and Asters

THE RECTORY OF St. Peter's Catholic church, yesterday, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Frances Ann Karas to Roger Vernard Coe. The Rev. Father Joseph O'Leary officiated for the double ring service.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Karas, 345 North Townview circle. Mr. Coe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Coe, 35 Brickman avenue.

The ceremony solemnized at 9:30 o'clock, was performed before a background of gladioli, roses and asters.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pink floor length marquisette gown over a taffeta slip. The gown had a drop shoulder effect yoke outlined with a double band of embroidered flowers. It was fashioned with a very full skirt embroidered with a double band of flowers at the hipline.

She wore a pink ruffled tiara fashioned out of illusion veiling with a side arrangement of pink taffeta flowers. A colonial bouquet of white gardenias tied with a shower of ribbons, completed her ensemble.

Miss Frances Wojcik, a friend of the bride, served as her only attendant. She was attired in a taffeta floor length nile green gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, and short puffed sleeves. Sheer marquisette covered Miss Wojcik's full skirt. Both she and the bride wore mitts. The attendant carried a colonial style bouquet of pink roses tied with pale green ribbon.

Mrs. Karas chose for her daughter's wedding an aqua dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Coe, the bridegroom's mother, wore an orchid dress with black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Clarence Dalenberg, a friend of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Immediately following the wedding a breakfast was served for the immediate families at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. The floral decorations and tapers were pink and white. A wedding cake colored pink and green, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, centered the table.

After August 8 the couple will be at home to their friends at 2078 Lexington avenue.

The bride is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school. She has been employed as a bookkeeper at the Farmer's Savings and Trust bank. Mr. Coe, also a graduate of Mansfield Senior High school, is employed as a gardener.

MEMOS . . .

From the Society Desk

Announcement has been made that there will be a combined meeting of the Golden Rule Class and the Pastor's Aid of St. Mark Lutheran church Tuesday at the church parlors. This will be a covered dish dinner at noon with Mrs. R. V. Cairns, Mrs. Charles House, Mrs. Ila Karl and Mrs. Gottlob Schauwecker as hostesses.

* * *

Members of the Young People's Group of the East Mansfield United Presbyterian church will hold an ice cream social tonight at 7 p. m. on the church grounds. Sandwiches, pop, cake and watermelon will be served.

* * *

All active and alumnae members of Kappa Delta sorority are asked to contact Miss Peggy Foltz, 1953-8, to make arrangements for the all sorority rush party to be held August 31 in Prospect park.

* * *

On August 31 all active and alumnae members of sororities of Mansfield will hold a rush party for girls who are to attend college this fall. The affair will be held at Prospect park at 6:30 o'clock. All who wish to assist are to notify Miss Joanne Beelman 5470-6- or Miss Marilyn Beattie-5261-6.

* * *

The fifty-fourth Kochheiser reunion will be held Sunday, August 14, at South park.

Schedule Of Events

SATURDAY

Wedding of Miss Helen Herold, 446 Lily street to Andrew Malthner, 506 Wayne street — at St. Paul's Lutheran church; formal, open church.

SUNDAY

Wedding of Miss Jean Marie Sowooley, 460 South Main street to Roger Elwood Myers, Bellville — at Main Street Evangelical and United Brethren church, 2 p. m., formal and open church.

Wedding of Miss Alice McFarland, R. D. 5 to Theodore L. Barr, of Lucas — at the Caesarea Christian church. Open church.

MRS. SAMUEL ROBERTS

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE—The Ontario Methodist church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Charlotte Hatmaker, daughter of Mrs. Fay Wooley, R. D. 6, Mansfield, and Samuel Roberts, son of Rupert Roberts, R. D. 6, Mansfield. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. R. L. Krepps on July 31 at 1:30 p. m. For her wedding the bride wore a white suit with brown and white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses. Miss Barbara Odenkirk, a close friend, was the only attendant, and was attired in white. James Hitchman served the bridegroom as best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Sky club for the immediate families. The bride is employed as cashier at the Red and White store, Lexington avenue. She is a graduate of Springfield township high school. Mr. Roberts is a graduate of Butler high school and is employed at the Gatton Nursery. Upon their return from a wedding trip the couple will reside on Pennsylvania avenue.

Miss Elizabeth Ann Zulauf Weds Alabama Man In Willard

WILLARD — Before an altar decorated with white gladioli, palms, and seven-branch candelabra, Miss Elizabeth Ann Zulauf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Zulauf of Willard, became the bride of Robert R. Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Hart, Andalusia, Ala. The Rev. Homer A. Neff officiated at the ceremony which was held on July 30, at 8 p. m. at the Presbyterian church, Willard.

The exchange of wedding vows was preceded by a program of wedding music, with Miss Myrna Smith of Cleveland as vocalist and Mrs. Evelyn Rogers Brown of Shelby as organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of frosted organdie. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by an orange blossom headband, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations. The maid of honor, Miss Onda Redden, Bell Center, Ohio, a close friend of the bride, wore a gown of blue organdie. She carried a bouquet of pink glamellias on tulle background.

Anthony Mazza of Cleveland served as best man; and seating the wedding guests were Lamar Black and Mark Anthony, both of Cleveland.

A reception was held at the home of the bride with Mrs. A. R. Parker of Lexington, Ohio and Mrs. O. J. Eastman of Bellevue, Ohio serving.

When the couple left for their apartment in Cleveland, the bride was attired in a pink suit with brown accessories and wore a white carnation corsage.

Both are employed in Cleveland, Mrs. Hart with the U. S. Public Health Survey and Mr. Hart with Halle Brothers Company.

Picnic Planned For Group

Miriam Rebekah lodge, No. 388, met last evening in the Oddfellows Temple, for routine business session. Mrs. Grace Pocock, Noble Grand, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Edna Eicher and Mrs. Gay Gleason were named to the visiting committee for the next two weeks.

Announcement was made of the basket picnic to be held for the Rebekahs and Oddfellows at Oddfellows' cabin, Sunday, at 12 noon. Meat, buns and coffee will be furnished by the committee.

The Rebekah Degree staff will hold a wiener roast Wednesday, Aug. 10, at 6 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Ray Kennedy, Logan Road, with the husbands as guests.

The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 17.

Brunch Served To Circle Two Group

Circle Two of the First Presbyterian church met Thursday at 11 a. m. at the South Park for a brunch. Mrs. C. C. Secrist served as chairman for the day, assisted by Mrs. G. B. Spell, Mrs. Sam Theaker, Mrs. Sam Peppard and Mrs. H. E. Amsbaugh.

The business session was conducted by Mrs J. G. Wallace, vice chairman. The group was seated at one long table which was decorated with garden flowers.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially. On Sept. 1 Mrs. R. L. Rice, 461 Lexington avenue, will be hostess, assisted by Miss Lucy Williams and Mrs. G. W. Casperson.

Former Resident Honored Here

Mrs. Grant Gillespie of Orange, Calif., who is visiting friends and relatives in Mansfield, was honored last eveing at a party given at the home of Mrs. A. C. Bechtel, 158 West Third street. Associate hostesses were Miss Helen Widders and Miss Helen Lorow. Mrs. Gillespie, the former Mae Riggle, lived in Mansfield for several years.

Hearts were the diversion of the evening for the 12 guests. Prizes, which were ceramics from Laguna Beach, Calif., were given to Miss Ann Maglott and Mrs. Wilfred Workman.

Pink and green appointments were used for decorations when refreshments were served at a long table.

Luncheon Honors Summer Birthdays

Auxiliary 100, Sons of Union Veterans met Wednesday evening in the Memorial building with Mrs. Cora Stewart presiding for a ritualistic and business meeting.

A report on the convention held recently in Columbus was given by the delegate, Mrs. Ella McHugh. During the business meeting plans for a rummage sale were made.

A luncheon honoring those members whose birthdays occurred during May and June, was held after the business meeting. Hostesses for the refreshments were Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. McHugh, Mrs. Anita Selby and Mrs. Treva Campbell. The evening prize was awarded to Mrs. Myrtle Soliday. The next meeting will be held August 17.

Ann Sheridan's present passion on the West Coast is that long-time lady killer, Bruce Cabot. They're seen almost nightly in the movie colony's playgrounds . . .Kathleen Winsor, who flew to Italy with her husband, has completed the fourth draft of her new novel. It is almost ready for the publisher.

Stuffed Hamburgers Please Picnic Crowd

Let's suppose you are planning a summer picnic for the family and guests. Picnic entertaining can be easy. If you have an out-of-door fireplace available, you might build the menu around roasting ears of sweet corn. Lacking the fireplace, the ears of corn can be cooked in boiling water. Most Americans are always hungry for sweet corn and this is the time when it is at its best.

See what you think of a menu like this:

Stuffed Hamburgers Potato Chips
Sweet Corn on the Cob
Sliced Tomatoes & Cucumbers
Watermelon or Apple Sauce
Turnovers

It you add coffee for the grown ups and milk for the youngsters what more do you need? Nothing, really, but more of the same. But you may want some recipes. Suppose we check off some of the easy foods, first.

EASY FOODS

Potato Chips head such a list. All you need to do is to buy enough of them because no one seems to know when to stop eating them. They are crisp, salty, and appetizing.

Peel the tomatoes but leave the well washed skin on the cucumbers. Run the sharp tines of a fork up and down the green cucumber skin on the whole cucumber. Do this so you have a parallel row of indentations when sliced. Each slice shows the notched and decorative edging.

DESSERT CHOICES

Chill the watermelon. Cut the fruit in wedges, rather than in round cross-wise slices. By the first method you serve some of the desirable, juicy center section to everyone.

If you have decided on apple sauce turnovers you may take them in tricorns shapes or semi-ovals.

The pie crust is rolled into five inch squares or rounds. A spoonful of thick, sweet apple sauce is placed on the lower half of the pie crust. The edges of the crust are moistened. A small design is slashed or priced in the upper half of the pie crust. The edges are brought together and pinched tightly.

CORN ON THE COB

Roasting ears of sweet corn may be prepared in either of two way. First, the ears with outer husks and silk left on, are immersed in a pail of water. Let them stand in the water for a half hour or so. Then shake the ears well and bury them, husks and all, in the hot coals.

If you know the likes of the guests at the picnic you might prepare roasting ears with garlic flavored butter. Carefully remove the silk and turn back some of the husks. Brush the kernels with garlic flavored butter. Bring the husks together back over the ears. Roast as usual.

Now we are ready for the stuffed hamburgers. These are juicy and substantial since each serving is a pair of hamburgers with stuffing between.

STUFFED HAMBURGERS

Meat Cakes
2 Pounds ground round steak
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 teaspoons salt
pepper to taste
½ teaspoon accent or zest or M S G (optional)
Stuffing
1 cup crumbled potato chips
4 slices day old bread, crumbled
4 strips bacon
¼ cup diced celery
¼ teaspoon poultry dressing seasoning
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper (optional)

Mix the meat, grated onion, seasonings. Lay a piece of paraffin paper on the table or flat surface. Put mounds (2 level tablespoons, each) of the meat on the paper. Have the mounds about 3 inches apart. Lay a piece of paraffin paper on top. With a rolling pin press down firmly and evenly to flatten the meat into thin rounds. Repeat until all the meat has been shaped into rounds.

For the stuffing crumble the potato chips and the bread. Cut the bacon into small squares, add the diced celery and cook until the bacon is crisp. Add the bacon and the bacon fat to the chips and crumbs. Season to taste. If the mixture seems dry add tomato juice or milk or water as needed.

Put a spoonful of the dressing on a meat round. Top with a second meat round. Press edges together. Pan-fry or cook on broiler grids if they are close enough together to prevent the meat cakes breaking and falling through. Serve hot.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Saturday, August 6

It will be a disruptive and disorganizing day at the start, in which crashes, sudden changes and dramatic adventures may be expended. However, tact, finesse or secret influences may turn the tide of harrowing events before the day is spent. It would be wise to delay all major operations until a more auspicious rule comes in, to incite to wise action and constructive effo in which secret agreements of domestic or romantic associations may bring thrilling denouements.

Those whose birthday it is, may encounter a year of much conflict and devastation to begin with, with surprising change inciting to the proper action or emotional drive to turn the tide into constructive channels. Intuition, hunches or a spiritual or inspired urge or realism may bring surprising developments. Guard the way until this happy contact brings success and perhaps magical culmination.

A child born on this day may have a conflicting and adventurous life, with vital and dynamic emotional crisis

Bedroom Decor Is Important To Your Miss Teen-Ager

NEW YORK — It's no secret to mothers that teen-age girls usually live in a world of their own. Smart mothers soon discover that the teen-ager's world of her own is happier and more productive when the room of her own is furnished with foresight and imagination.

A room that reflects her personality and is her own responsibility will help her feel that she contributes to the management and atmosphere of the home.

Here are some suggestions for achieving that end:

1. Let Miss Teen-Ager have a part in decorating it. Consult her when selecting paint or wallpaper. Chests, tables or chairs can be decorated with designs of her choosing, painted by her or with paper decorations pasted on and lacquered over. 2. The room should be easy to manage, especially if the teen-ager is responsible for its maintenance. Easy to clean floor and wall materials such as clay tile will cut cleaning chores and add brightness.

3. There should be plenty of closet and cupboard space for orderly storage of clothing, playthings and sports equipment. 4. Built-in seats and cabinets will allow more center space and make the room seem larger. 5. Open shelves and counter tops are prime grime collectors. Covered with acid-resistant clay tile, they can be cleaned in a jiffy even when doused with milk, soft drinks or perfume.

6. Every teen-ager reaching primping age wants a dressing table. Give yours one topped with easily-cleaned tiles she can decorate herself. 7. Let Miss Teen-ager convert the unused radio cabinet into a storage cabinet, bookcase or record holder reflecting her own hobbies or decorating tastes. 8. A bedroom lavatory, although not practical in every home, enables Miss Teen-Ager to do all her beautifying in one spot and prevents a trail of powder and hairpins between bedroom and bath. 9. A miniature indoor garden of flowers or plants on a moistureproof clay tile-topped window sill will create an air of gracious living.

Ashland Phone Number Change Ends Color System

Step Toward Installing Dial Units

Four, Five Digit Numbers In Book

By VIRGINIA LEED
N-J State Correspondent

ASHLAND — Ashlanders were frantically leafing through the pages of their new telephone books today to find the new four and five digit numbers assigned all subscribers of the exchange.

The new numbers are part of a change through the entire Northern Ohio Telephone company district as a step toward installing a dial system.

Under the ownership of the Star Telephone company, purchased last year by Ohio Northern, Ashland exchange numbers always have had a color and main system with party line numbers distinguished by the colors red, blue, black, brown and green, much to the amazement of out of town visitors.

The color system becomes a thing of the past with the new phone books which base new numbers upon previous numbers with color of main line designations replaced with an additional number.

Numbers with only two digits are prefaced with an O. For example the old police department number 35-Main, is now 0351.

Slips Way In, Slams Way Out

TOLEDO — (AP) — A prowler early today noiselessly cut a screen from the window of John Pozy and stole through the house.

Pozy discovered the damaged window and other evidence of the prowl after being awakened as the intruder left by a rear exit, slamming the door.

The inconsistency puzzled police but not for long. Pozy completed a check of his money and other valuables, then announced his total loss—85 cents.

Senators Plan Bill For Aid To States

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Sen. Gurney (R-SD) said today he and other senators plan to introduce a bill authorizing federal assistance to state and local governments in event of disasters.

Gurney said the bill does not propose that the federal government take any responsibility of the state or local community but would have the federal government supplement the local effort through use of federal materials equipment and man power.

88 On Saturday

PERRYSVILLE — Mrs. Veta Baker, who lives near here, observes her 88th birthday anniversary Saturday. She had resided in her present hilltop home for 43 years.

Picnic On Aug. 14

SHELBY — The annual picnic of the Knights of Columbus will be held at the Shelby Settlement Sunday Aug. 14, during the afternoon and evening.

MAKING PROGRESS

GALION—Mrs. Leonard Lohr, 347 Grove avenue, who underwent surgery at the Fostoria City hospital recently, is making satisfactory progress.

NAMED PUBLISHER — New publisher of the Washington D. C. Times-Herald will be 28-year-old Mrs. Maxwell Miller jr., niece of Col. Robert R. McCormick, president and publisher of the Chicago Tribune which recently acquired the Washington paper from seven executives who had inherited it from the late Mrs. Eleanor Medill Patterson who was a full cousin of Colonel McCormick. (International)

Shelby Girls To Take Vows

SHELBY — Ruth Ann Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin J. Berry, 30 Marvin avenue and Lillian Metzger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Metzger, Jackson township, Shelby, R. D. 1, will take their first vows as Sisters of Saint Francis on Friday, Aug. 12 at the ceremonies of religious reception and profession to be held at Saint Francis convent in Joliet, Ill.

The girls, both graduates of St. Mary's school here, have completed their novitiate at the convent.

Rev. Martin D. McNamara, will officiate at the ceremony.

Dies In East

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The Rev. Edwin E. Haskins, 82, a retired minister of the Church of the Brethren, died here yesterday. A native of Mt. Gilead, O., he was a graduate of Ashland college, Ashland, O., and had served pastorates in Columbus, Akron and Canton, O.

PLAN FESTIVAL FRIDAY

IBERIA — The Sunday school class of Peace Reformed church will sponsor an old-fashioned ice cream festival at West Point Community Hall Friday evening. Edwin Swartz, chairman, reports the menu will include chicken sandwiches, pie, cake and chicken noodles.

TALKS SPOTLIGHTED

LEXINGTON — The local Sunshine 4—H club met last week with Mrs. Seif and heard talks by Carol Schneider, Marilyn Sheer and Ann Allgire. Mothers will be invited to the next meeting when the county health nurse speaks.

POPULAR?

You'll be twice as popular after a few dance lessons at Arthur Murray's, 26½ S. Main St. Dial 3157-4.

Parking Lot At Plymouth Now Lighted

Board Considering Purchase of Truck

PLYMOUTH — Parking lights have been installed on the lot east of the Plymouth theater and are ready for public use, Supt. Ernest Rooks reports. He told the Board of Public Affairs this week the cost of installing poles, lights and wiring cost $300.

Purchase of a new utility truck for the light and water department was taken under consideration at this week's meeting of the board. The service truck now in use is a 1936 model.

Rooks turned into the board a list of accessories desirable in the new truck. The board was advised the cost of the truck, a ton and a quarter model, would be $4,500.

Ohio Peaches Ripen Early

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Early peaches in Ohio are really early this year. Vernon Patterson, extension horticulturist at Ohio State university reports Golden Jubilee peaches are ripening fully a week to 10 days ahead of schedule.

Harvesting of Golden Jubilees will be completed in southern Ohio this week, and picking is now underway in Coshocton county he said.

The main Golden Jubille crop in northern Ohio is not expected to reach market until the end of next week, however. Patterson added that the quality of this year's peach crop is "exceptionally good."

Bucyrus Veteran Uses Gun On Self

BUCYRUS — (INS) — John W. Uebelhoer, 32-year-old Bucyrus World War II veteran, killed himself yesterday afternoon with an improvised self - firing 16-gauge shotgun device.

Galion Coroner O. R. Kackley said Uebelhoer had suffered illness and despondency since being discharged from the Army in 1945.

Uebelhoer, who operated a radio and television store in Bucyrus, is survived by his parents and two sisters.

KEEPS DEATHBED 'LOG'— Hoping to help other victims of infantile paralysis (polio), a young Navy pilot kept a deathbed 'log' of his reactions as he died of the dread disease at Bethesda Naval hospital, it is revealed in Washington. The victim, Lt. (JG) James Olin Chiles, 25 (above), of Oxon Hill, Md., was buried at Arlington National cemetery with full military honors. Unable to talk he wrote notes with pain-tortured fingers until four hours before he succumbed. (International Soundphoto)

Galion Supper Total Loss, Firemen Report

GALION — Firemen arrived too late to save the supper at the Leo Ramsey home at 312 South Washington street late yesterday afternoon. Neighbors called the fire department when they saw smoke issuing forth from the house.

However, upon the arrival of the fire fighters, an investigation showed the blaze was confined to the oven. The supper was a total loss.

Galion Speeds Traffic Flow

GALION — Traffic lights on Harding way, which have been set to change color and the same time and to the same color, were changed yesterday to speed flow of traffic through the downtonw area.

The lights at Columbus and Liberty street intersections now work in unison and lights at the public square and Union street intersections work together.

Seeks To Have U. S. Pay Cost of Uniforms For Its Mail Carriers

WASHINGTON —(UP)— "Neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds"—Herodotus, 600 B. C.

That's the adopted code of your mailman. And the letter-carrier follows the code even if he has to buy his own pants, rubbers and raincoat. Which he does.

Sen. Joseph Allen Frear jr., of Dover, Del., was born on a farm and knows how the mailman can struggle to get you a postcard from Aunt Mable. He has introduced a bill which would allow the mailman $100 a year for his uniform.

But while the senator is hot on the subject, he's not quite as hot as Jerome J. Keating, the secretary of the National Association of Letter Carriers.

Keating spends the better part of every waking hour thumping the drums for a lot of bills now before Congress which would take a financial load off the back of your mailman.

The uniform bill would cost about $7,000,000 a year, Keating said.

"But why should America be cheap about it?" he asked.

Uncle Sam, with his big fat wallet, is the only chief in the world who makes his mailmen buy their own work clothes. In Latin America, the government foots the bill. Even in Britain, during the "dollar crisis," letter toters get their duds paid for.

"The American mail carrier," said Keating, steaming up, "is the only uniformed man in the United States who has to pay for his own clothes. Look at the army and the navy. Doormen in government buildings and federal elevator operators. I shouldn't mention it, but look at the street cleaners here in Washington. Uniforms free. Laundered and cleaned, even."

Keating knows what he is talking about. A dark-skinned 6-footer who would lick any anti-mailman dog in the block in his day, he saw that the mails got through for about 20 years in Minneapolis. He legged it, like all mailmen do.

"We're asking $100 a year," he said, wiping some of the steam off his brow. "That'll help, but that's really not enough."

On the average, a winter uniform costs a mail carrier $65. The summer uniform, a light jacket and pants, runs around $35. That adds up to $100.

But does a banker go about his business wearing the same suit every day? The question was Keating's. Also the answer, which was "no."

And take shoe leather. A mailman, without even dragging his feet, wears out at least three pairs of work shoes a year. Around $8.50 each. His caps cost $3 and the shirts, about four or five per man, come to about $5 apiece. The black ties never run under $1 each.

You think your mailman is well dressed. He looks it and he is. He has to be. If your wife picks up the mail from a carrier who is wearing a soiled shirt or unpressed pants she might turn him in. He catches the dickens.

But there are compensations for bucking the snow and the rain and the heat. A man makes a depost of between 15 and 50 cents for his badge—depending on locale. He gets it back in retirement—after 30 years.

Says Disc Jockey's Son Now Lets Recorder Say His Nightly Prayer

Bill Bertolotti tells me a yarn, and I'll fall for it, whether it's the McCoy or an ingenious invention.

He confides the young son of a disc-jockey, who had to say his prayers each night when he was so sleepy, sneaked into a studio that makes platters* his old man plugs, and had a transcription recorded of his voice reciting his nightly piece—which he now turns on and plays, as his eyes close and he wafts into his youthful slumber.

Arturo Ramos jr., son of the former Millicent Rogers, is described as turning his half-Latin romantic fire on Dusty Kitterman (a model, I presume, from the hat-bag-carriers' fashion in cooking up monickers), while his brother Paul and his half-brother, Peter Salm, are summering abroad, while (again) their mother is in Mexico. These are all heirs of H. H. Rogers, so they can afford to woo and travel.

Frank Rediker and Princess Halim, cousin of Egypt's King Farouk, much together in Washington ... Mrs. Deems Taylor had her appendix edited out in Lenox Hill Hospital.

Big Bill, Philadelphia restaurateur and cabaret host, has immortalized me by a menu entry, "Baked Fillet of Flounder Jack Lait, $2.25." "Cafe au lait," of course, was named for me centuries ago ... Copa-charmer Muriel Allan was married to Robert Casey, with her sisters of the line acting as bridesmaids.

At the Gardenia, in Hollywood, they're holding amateur strip-tease contests, the winner to get a free trip to New York and a job at Minsky's when it reopens. Breaking picture marks in Jerusalem is "The Lost Weekend." One of its most memorable scenes has to do with a Jewish holiday in Manhattan.

Cam Marshall, daughter of the pro football Redskins' owner, George Preston Marshall, and wife of George E. Price, comedian, made her stage debut last night in Bay Shore, L. I., with Richard Arlen, playing "Made in Heaven." Few folks know Marshall was an actor. But I do, because he was in a play I wrote, in a Los Angeles stock company. He went on to marry Corinne Griffith and run a laundry in Washington. The villain of the piece kept on acting — his name is Richard Dix.

The usual rash of letters from New Dealers, "progressives" and Marcantonio-lovers and Roosevelt-worshipers has descended on me because I wrote that Robert E. Sherwood is not by temperament, habit or nature equipped to do the libretto of a snappy musical comedy, and indicated h did "Miss Liberty" with heavy hands and hobnailed feet.

They throw back at me the statistics — the show is selling out. Good! I hope it does that for years. And it had better; I know what it cost. But at this stage, how could it help standing them up, when the advance sale surpassed $500,000 — on the strength of the name of Irving Berlin?

Dog Scares Burglar At Window

Thief Fails To Enter Home; Car Looted

Another auto looting and an attempted burglary an Arlington avenue home have been added to the list of unsolved lootings in the city in the past month.

W. O. Loomis, 591 Arlington avenue, reported to police yesterday afternoon, that the wood stripping on a living room screen had been pried loose.

Loomis who is president and manager of Scattergood's department store, said he was awakened about 2:30 a. m. yesterday when his dog began barking. He said he and his daughter investigated but found nothing out of order.

Police said the dog's bark probably frightened away the burglar who did not gain entrance to the home.

Theft of $140 in clothing and personal property from the auto of Gerald Schlereth, 151 West fifth street, was reported to officers. Schlereth said the theft occured during the past two days while his car was parked in front of his home. Police side the car was unlocked.

The missing items from the auto included one pair of girl's white leather roller skating shoes valued at $50, a camera valued at $75, two pairs of men's trousers valued at $12, and an Indian blanket valued at $1.50.

At 8:45 p. m. yesterday, Elaine Hamlin, 224 Parkway drive, reported to police that a prowler was in the vicinity of her home. Police searched the neighborhood but failed to find a suspect.

Mrs. Malaska Dies At 84

Mrs. Gertrude Malaska, 84, widow of John Malaska, died early today in her home, 616 Grant street, after a brief illness.

Born in Poland Feb. 17, 1865, Mrs. Malaska came to Mansfield 56 years ago. She was a member of the St. Peter's Catholic church and the Rosary Society of Catholic Women. Members of the society will meet at the home Sunday at 8 p. m. to pray the Rosary.

Surviving are five sons, Theodore, Andrew, Leo, John and Lester, all of Mansfield; three daughters, Mrs. Edward Booker of Detroit, Mrs. Helen Smith of Mansfield and Mrs. Victor Boight of Cleveland; 24 grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren, and one sister, Miss Mary Kleshinski of Mansfield.

Friends may call at the family home after 6 p. m. today and until Monday morning when the body will be taken to the Geiger funeral home. Solemn Funeral High Mass will be said at the St. Peter's Catholic church at 9:30 a. m. Monday with Msgr. R. C. Goebel officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield Catholic cemetery.

Check Signatures On Oleo Petitions

Two additional clerks were on hand today in county elections office to check signatures on petitions seeking to have restrictions taken off coloring odeo.

Making the check are Mrs. Dorothy Wilmoth and Mrs. Pearl Scott. If sufficient signatures are gathered throughout the state, the question will be put on the November ballot.

Village Vote Races Loom

Bellville, Plymouth Battles Shaping

A two-way race developed today for the mayor's office at Bellville. Edgar R. Stahl, a former mayor, and Mayor Charles Palm, filed their nominating petitions with the county board of elections. Palm is serving his second term.

And in the other end of the county, another race is expected to develop. A former mayor of Plymouth, J. A. Lasch, filed his petition for the Plymouth post. Mayor Carroll A. Robinson, has not yet filed but is expected to, his friends said.

Others who have filed are Virgil Baird, for Plymouth township trustee; Paul H. Root, and B. R. Scott, both for Plymouth village board of public affairs.

Earl E. Heininger, for clerk of Butler; W. E. Ogier, M. C. Mathews and Herbert Pritchard, all for board of public affairs at Butler; Maurice Bachrach, for councilman at Plymouth.

Howard Yarger for Bellville council; Alva Crunkilton, for Union school board; Charles Shaffner, for Franklin township constable; and Martin Frank and Grover Simpson, both for Franklin township trustee posts.

Petitions started to arrive in greater quantity the last few days with next Wednesday's deadline approaching. The petitions must be filed by 6:30 p. m. that day.

Church Takes Over Theater For Services

A plaster-dust filled church will prevent members of the First Lutheran church from worshipping there Sunday. So arrangements have been made to take over the Madison theater for the worship and Sunday school hour, starting at the usual time, 9:45 a. m., Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell said today.

Since Monday morning, contractors have been at work. The entire basement has been ripped out in accordance with remodeling plans, and plaster dust has settled over the entire building.

"It wouldn't be well to ask people to sit in the seats in summer clothes," Rev. Mitchell said. "Even if we cleaned it up Saturday, the dust would still be settling Sunday morning. So we're going to move." Bulldozers have dug out the cellar for the new heating plant at the rear of the parish house and today the footers are being poured. Rev. Mitchell said he did not know about next Sunday. Plans for that service will be announced later.

Fair, Warm Days Ahead

An ideal week end for picnics and motor trips was promised today in the Mansfield area.

It will be mostly sunny with moderate temperatures tonight and Saturday and probably until Tuesday, the forecasters said.

The mercury is expected to rise gradually, but it won't get uncomfortably warm until Monday or later, the five-day forecast indicated. A few local thundershowers are scheduled for Tuesday or Wednesday.

Mansfielders enjoyed balmy weather yesterday and today, the mercury climbing to 80 yesterday afternoon and to 78 at noon today.

Blow Torch Starts Blaze On Home

A blow torch, being used to solder plumbing fixtures at the home of Mrs. Ann M. Shirkey, 151 East Third street, set fire to combustible material between the house partitions yesterday afternoon.

Firemen from Central and No. 2 stations were called to the home at 3:20 p. m. Firemen said damage was slight.

Harvest Delays Work On Rural Center

As soon as harvest is over volunteer workers will start clearing the Richland Rural Life Center grounds in preparation for building construction and remodeling at the site in Weller township, Clair Will, trustee and building project chairman, said today.

County Agent C. N. McGrew has obtained the use of power saws from two Mansfield farm stores to speed the tree-cutting.

Members of the project's board of directors will meet at the Center for the first time Aug. 16 to discuss plans for completing the building and development program at the 80-acre center. Members will picnic before the meeting.

Remodeling of the kitchen will be discussed at the session. According to figures presented at the last directors' meeting, it will cost $1,000 to equip the dining hall and kitchen, exclusive of tables and chairs. This figure was presented by Miss Mabel Spray, county home demonstration agent.

At the last quarterly meeting of the directors, it was decided to prepare a financial report as of July 1, and send it to leading rural organizations of the county.

Mrs. Martin Frank, treasurer, reported that donation cards sent out by the ways and means committee were still coming in.

Members of Richland county's 4-H clubs planted 12 acres of corn at the Center, according to Dick Wolford, chairman of the Crop committee.

3 Youths Play At State Fair

Three area high school students have been selected to play in the All-Ohio Boys' band during the Ohio State fair in Columbus, Aug. 27 to Sept. 2.

Dr. Louis E. Pete of Ashland will direct the band. Among the 200 members are Larry Frank of Galion; John Woods of Lucas, and Ned Deihl of Pavonia, all clarinet players.

The band members are to report in Columbus one week prior to the fair for intensive rehearsals. During the fair period, they will play daily concerts as well as participate in many special events. Members of the band will be housed on the fairgrounds.

Stake Wins Parole From Ohio Pen

Clifford Stake, sentenced to one to 20 years from Richland county on a charge of rape with consent, was paroled today.

He will be released from the penitentiary Sept. 15. Stake was sentenced Sept. 22, 1941.

Directors To Install

Installation of officers for the Ohio Funeral Directors of district No. 2, will be held next Tuesday night at the Westbrook Country club.

Max Craven of Mt. Gilead will head the list as president. Others to be installed are William Wappner of Mansfield, vice president and Miss Teresa Peiffer, Mansfield, secretary - treasurer. Miss Peiffer was re-elected.

Dinner will be served at 7 p. m. at the club with a program to follow. J. C. Gordon of Columbus, executive secretary of the Ohio Funeral Directors association, will be the speaker.

District No. 2 takes in funeral directors from Richland and five surrounding counties.

Will Dedicate Hidden Hollow Camp Hall

At special ceremonies at Hidden Hollow camp next Monday night, the new handcraft hall, a gift of the Mansfield chapter of B'nai Brith, will be formally dedicated.

The hall, 50 by 20 feet, was paid for and erected by the chapter in memory of their members who fought and died in World War II. It was built at an approximate cost of $2,500.

Arrangements are in charge of Sam D. Lockshin.

150 N-J Carriers To See Carnival

Approximately 150 News-Journal carrier boys will be guests of the Endy Bros. shows this evening. The boys will meet at the entrance of the Blue goose show grounds at 7 p. m. They will be treated to free rides and will see several side shows free of charge.

NO HARM DONE —

Firemen at No. 3 station went to a corn roast last night — but unknowingly. At 10:10 p. m. firemen were summoned to an area on East Arch street where a fire was reported. The complainant was a neighbor. Firemen rushed to the scene only to find that the blaze was a well - confined one for roasting corn. They backed their trucks around and headed back to the station. Evidently the neighbor had not been invited to the roast.

Maximum Penalty Given Bucyrian

BUCYRUS — Mayor R. L. Hertzer fined William G. Dunn, 25, Bucyrus, the maximum penalty of $200 and six months in jail when he pleaded guilty Thursday to a charge of assault and battery filed by Charles McReynolds, Bucyrus.

Police said Dunn, a former resident of Franklin, Ky., entered McReynolds apartment and assaulted him without provacation. Dunn was under the influence of alchol, police said.

McReynolds was treated at City hospital here for multiple lacerations of the right forearm, face and lip.

Route 603 Will Be Re-topped

State Repairs Seven Roads

Work on State Route 603 from Shenandoah to the Ashland county line will start Saturday, Clarence Tugend, superintendent of the state highway department in Richland county said today.

The work, done by contract, will consist of putting on seal coat resurfacing on the highway. The stretch to be improved is seven miles long.

Tugend said that seven jobs in the county on state routes have either been completed or are being worked on. The jobs have been let to private contractors. However, state maintenance forces first go over the roads patching up holes and ruts.

State forces, in addition, have put 300 tons of hot mix on State Route 42, south of Lexington, and another 300 tons on State Route 30-E from Oak Park to the Ashland county line.

Sealing of the top of State Route 13, south of Mansfield, is being carried out by state forces. Other work consists of mowing weeds and cleaning out road ditches.

Tugend said he has just 40 men on his force, when he actually could use 140 men. However, he pointed out that he is only allowed the number of men he now has.

Scheduled for seal coating is State Route 96, from State Route 13 to the Ashland county line, a distance of 6.8 miles.

That job will be done by private contractor as were the following completed jobs:

Asphalt resurfacing of State Route 95, from the Knox to the Ashland county line, a distance of 7.5 miles, completed Wednesday.

"Seal coat" resurfacing of State Route 39, from Lucas to the Ashland county line, six miles.

The same type of resurfacing of State Route 314, from Route 30-S to the Morrow county line, a distance of 4.7 miles, to be completed tonight.

Asphalt sealing of State Route 545 from Mansfield to Lexington-Ontario road, recently completed, a distance of 3.3 miles.

"Seal coating" of State Route 546, from Lexington to the Honeywalt bridge, a distance of five miles.

Insurance Firms Merge

Joe R. Roby and Clyde R. Wharton have merged their insurance firms, it was announced today. The Wharton - Roby general insurance agency will begin operation at Wharton's office, 506 Springmill street Monday.

Roby will close the office he has operated in the Walpark building for three years. Wharton has been selling insurance in Mansfield for 15 years.

In the general insurance business in Marion before the war, Roby has earned a place on "the million dollar roundtable" for the past two years. To be named to the roundtable a salesman must sell at least $1,000,000 worth of insurance.

Services Set For Mrs. Edmunds

Funeral services for Mrs. Lillian Edmunds, former Bellville resident, who died in Chicago Thursday night, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Jones Memorial. Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First Lutheran church, will officiate and burial will be in the Bellville cemetery.

Mrs. Edmunds, widow of William Edmunds, had been making her home in Chicago with a sister, Mrs. Lucy Nelson.

Surviving, besides Mrs. Nelson, are another sister, Mrs. J. W. Frankeberger of Mansfield, and two brothers. William Britcher of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Jacob Britcher of Zanesville.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

County Farm Bureau Workers To Picnic

The annual picnic of the Farm Bureau employes of Richland county will be held Friday at 6 p. m., it was announced today by Harold Stover, president.

The outing will be held at Howard Lust's home on State Route 39, opposite the Sacred Heart Seminary on the Shelby road.

Culvert Crash Hurts 4 In Car

BUCYRUS — Four California residents are recovering in Mercy hospital in Tiffin from injuries received Wednesday night when their car struck a concrete culvert at the intersection of State Routes 19 and 100, about 10 miles north of here.

Melvin E. Bagley, Los Angeles, Calif., driver of the car, told Crawford county sheriff's deputies he struck the culvert when he missed a left turn for state Route 100. He suffered contusions and abrasions of the head. Mrs. Bagley suffered a fractured left ankle and bruises. A son, Walter, 11, and a daughter, Marcia, 20, suffered lacerations of the face.

Sheriff's deputies said the front end of the automobile was badly damaged. The injured were taken to the Tiffin hospital by passing motorists.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO — (AP) — Grains opened strong in active dealings on the board of trade today. Buying was based mainly on announcement of a new farm bill by the subcommittee of the Senate agriculture committee. This bill includes higher farm labor costs as an element in the expense of production for computing parity. In effect, it would raise parity levels and therefore support prices, traders said. Wheat started 3/8 a 1¾ cents higher, September $2.04¼-⅜; corn was ½-¾ higher, September $1.27¼-⅜, and oats were ½-¾ higher, September 67⅛-¾. Soybeans were 2¼-4½ cents higher, November $2.36.

MANSFIELD GRAIN

The following prices are being paid to farmers by Honegger-Hanley Mills, Inc. and Lantz Milling Co.

Wheat No. 2 red $1.70.
Corn No. 2 Yellow $1.80.
Oats No. 2, 32 pounds ,58.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO — (AP) — Grains opened strong in active dealings on the board of trade today. Buying was based mainly on announcement of a new farm bill by the subcommittee of the Senate agriculture committee This bill includes higher farm labor costs as an element in the expense of production for computing parity In effect it would raise parity levels and therefore support prices tracers said Wheat started 3/8 -1/2 cents higher September $1 04 1/2-3/8 corn was 1/2-3/4 higher September $1 27 1/8-3/8 and oats were 1-3/4 higher September 67 3/8 Soybeans were 2 1/4-4 2 cents higher. November $2 36
